RIGID POLICE PROBE OF BROTHER'S DEATH URGED BY CALLAWAY

Starnes and Campbell Assigned by Chief Beavers to Investigate the Goldsmith Apartment Tragedy.

ONLY THREE WITNESSES TESTIFY AT INQUEST

W. B. Carhart Freed After Coroner's Jury Hears Stories of Killing of James Callaway.

Dissatisfied with the verdict of justifiable homicide that was returned by the coroner's jury in favor of W. B. Carhart for the slaying of James Callaway early Wednesday morning, Major Frank Callaway, brother of the dead society man, is urging the police to make a rigid investigation.

"We are not going to drop this case with the verdict of the coroner's jury," said Major Callaway. "We are going to the bottom of it and find what there is behind it. Not only do we feel that we should take this course, but it is something anyone else would do under similar circumstances. It's a mystery that needs solving—for a mystery, indeed, it is."

Mr. Callaway did not state, however, whether or not he and his representatives would urge a grand jury indictment of the man who was freed by a coroner's verdict. He did state, however, that there were no prospects of a criminal warrant as was reported Wednesday afternoon.

Stigma as Name.

"A stigma has been put upon the name of my dead brother," Major Callaway said. "The police have assured me that they will do all in their power to probe the mystery."

Detectives John Starnes and Patrick Campbell, star men of Chief Lanford's staff, have been detailed on the Goldsmith apartment tragedy.

Mrs. Carhart, garbed in black, wearing a heavy veil, came in her limousine to the Patterson undertaking establishment during the inquest Wednesday morning. She showed signs of the nervous collapse she suffered the previous midnight over the shooting. While the inquest was under way she remained in another room in the Patterson undertaking establishment. She was not called as a witness, however.

Suffers Nervous Breakdown.

She suffered another nervous breakdown upon returning to her home in which the tragedy had been enacted. Her husband, too, suffered from the effects of the shock. While testifying to his fifteen years' acquaintance with the young man he had slain, he broke into tears before the coroner, requiring some time to regain composure.

Regarding his attitude toward continuing the police investigation, Major Callaway was asked Wednesday afternoon shortly following the verdict of the coroner's jury, if he would plead for a grand jury indictment. His answer was:

"I cannot say until the investigation is completed."

A noticeable fact of the coroner's probe was the mystery of the dead man's presence in the Carhart apartments was never explained. Mr. Carhart, the principal witness, stated he even did not know how Callaway had gained access to the place unless through the front door carelessly left open.

Three Witnesses Called.

Only three witnesses were called before the inquest. They were Mr. Goldsmith, who occupied apartment No. 2 in the Goldsmith, directly beneath the apartment in which the shooting occurred; J. W. Hurt, county physician, and Mr. Carhart. Mr. Goldsmith corroborated the story of the slayer in that he had heard the sounds of footsteps going up the stairway and into the Carhart apartments at fifteen minutes after 1 o'clock, the time at which Mr. Carhart testified he and his wife returned home.

"I had been sleeping on the sleeping porch since 10 o'clock," Mr. Goldsmith stated, "and awoke on account of the humidity. I went into the room that opens upon the sleeping porch and turned on a light, looking at the clock. I was impressed with the fact that it was only fifteen minutes after 1 o'clock when I had thought it later. I called the attention of my wife to the hour.

"In a second or so we heard the sound of footsteps going up the stairway that leads to the second floor from the Peachtree street entrance. Then we heard two persons entering the apartments above us. Immediately I heard a commotion above and in a moment the sound of two pistol shots. I heard something strike the ground outside my sleeping porch with a thud.

"I ran and looked over the balustrade. In the moonlight I could see a man struggling on the ground as though to turn over on the left side. I went to the telephone to call medical assistance and then telephoned police headquarters. By the time the patrol wagon arrived—which, I consider, had been later than ten minutes—Mr. and Mrs. Carhart came downstairs to ask me to notify the police. I detailed one in front and led the police to the body."

Heard Three Voices.

Mr. Goldsmith also stated in his story that he had heard three voices in the Carhart apartments, two of which seemed to be those of men. He recalled hearing Mrs. Carhart scream, but could not understand her words.

Questioned by Coroner Donehoo, Mr. Goldsmith said that he had often seen Callaway, but could not recall that the dead man had frequently visited the Carhart home. He was intimately acquainted with his brother, Frank Callaway, he stated.

"Mr. Carhart certainly didn't know the man he had shot at the time he fired," the witness told. "There was unmistakable consternation on his face when the body was turned upon

FIGHT LAUNCHED FOR CHEAPER GAS

Georgetown, Va., has a population of about 30,000.

Birmingham is negotiating for a sliding rate of from 55 to 75 cents per 1,000 feet.

Chattanooga will have practically the same rate as Birmingham.

The fight for an "80-cent gas rate," launched by the Gas Consumers' league against the Atlanta Gas Light company, subsidiary of the Georgia Railway and Power company, has stirred leaders in the movement for cheaper gas who say there will be no parleying until the Georgia railroad commission settles this question:

Is Atlanta entitled to a lower gas rate?

If not, they say, a movement will be launched looking to the establishment of a municipal plant by the city.

NO FIGHT BREWING ON ISSUE OF BONDS, DECLARE LEADERS

Emphatic Denial of This Report Was Made Wednesday Afternoon by Members of Council.

$3,500,000 BOND ISSUE BETTER, SAYS NUTTING

Subcommittee Will Meet on Thursday Morning to Formulate Report to Present to Whole Committee.

Emphatic denial of the report that a fight is brewing on the proposed issue of $4,100,000 in bonds for the rehabilitation of the school system, and for the improvement of various other departments of the city, was made by council leaders, Wednesday afternoon.

Members of the sub-committee of the general bond issue committee say that there is absolutely no friction in the committee or among members of council, but they admit that there are members of both council and the committee who would like to see the total amount of the entire bond issue shaved down to about $3,500,000.

Want Smaller Issue.

SERVIANS LOSE BELGRADE; RUSS AND GERMAN ARMIES STILL BATTLE IN POLAND

Capture of the Former Capital of Servia Effected by Austrians After Siege That Has Lasted Since Beginning of the War.

HEAVY LOSSES MARKING STRUGGLE IN POLAND WITHOUT A DECISION

Germans Claim Success at Certain Points While Russians Report Gains at Others—Each Side Claims to Have Taken Thousands of Prisoners--Heavy Fighting Has Been Resumed in France and Belgium Where the Allies Are Expected to Take Offensive.

London, December 2.—Belgrade, until the outbreak of the war Servia's capital, was occupied today by Austrian troops. The Servians previously had evacuated the city.

Thus, on the sixty-sixth anniversary of the reign of Emperor Francis Joseph, who again is reported seriously ill, and four months after the outbreak of the war, his generals report one of the most important successes they have obtained.

Belgrade frequently was bombarded early in the war and but for the necessity that compelled Austria to send troops against Russia must have fallen easy prey to Servia's big neighbor.

Apparently Austria miscalculated the nature of the Servian opposition and only after Russia was invaded did she send a lufficient force against the Servians to drive them back. Now they are being forced backward and are anxiously looking for the advance of the Russians into Hungary to afford them relief.

Russia has been sending Cossack raiding parties through the Carpathians to divert Austria's attention, but the dual monarchy seemingly is determined to finish with Servia first.

BATTLE UNDECIDED IN NORTH POLAND.

This, however, is only a small affair compared with what is going on in north Poland. There the German army, which, aided by reinforcements, escaped from the ring the Russians had forced around it, has formed a new front and at some points has resumed the offensive. The Germans assert that in these maneuvers they made 80,000 prisoners.

The Russians, in a statement issued through Rome, say their captures greatly exceed this number. All agree that losses have been heavy and that the battle still is undecided, as it probably will be for some days.

For a moment, the allies are somewhat disappointed that the realization of a great Russian victory is denied them. They take some consolation in that the German attempt to pierce the Russian lines has failed, and that, suffering from heavy losses, the Germans are compelled to weaken their armies elsewhere.

NEARLY IN CRACOW, RUSSIANS REPORT.

The Russian report tonight says the fighting has lost some of its violence and indicates some progress for Russian troops south of Lodz. It is unofficially reported that the Russians are "nearly in Cracow."

It is clear that the German tactical plan for the taking of Warsaw again has failed, according to the prevailing opinion in England. Whether a counter invasion of Silesia by the Russians has been rendered impossible for the present remains to be seen.

$1,250,000,000 CREDIT VOTED FOR GERMANY

Herr Liebknecht Only Member of Reichstag to Oppose New War Loan.

Berlin, December 2.—(Via Amsterdam to London.)—With one dissenting vote, that of Herr Liebknecht, socialist, the reichstag today voted a new war credit of $1,250,000,000.

The president of the chamber's speech dwelt on the unity and patriotism of the German people and commented appreciatively on the large number of reichstag members serving at the front. Of the progress of the war the president said:

"Japan joined our enemies from a desire to seize as booty the monument to German culture in the Far East. On the other hand we have found an ally in Turkey, as all the Moslem people wish to throw off the English yoke and shatter the foundations of England's colonial power. Under the banner of our army and our fleet we will continue."

The imperial chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, attended the session dressed in the service uniform of a general. All secretaries of state and the Prussian ministers were present.

Many members were in uniform and wore iron crosses.

In an address to the members of the chamber Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg said:

"The emperor is absent with the army, but he has charged me to transmit his best wishes and cordial greetings to the German house of representatives, with whom he knows he is united until death, in stress of danger, in common concert for the weal of the fatherland.

"Our first thoughts go to the emperor and the army and navy, fighting for the honor and greatness of the empire. Full of pride and with unshakable confidence we look on them and our Austro-Hungarian comrades in arms, who are firmly united to us to fight and to win great battles with brilliant bravery.

"Our test lastly in the war forced upon us is the Ottoman empire, which well knows that if the German empire were destroyed it, too, would lose its national right to arrange its own destiny. As our enemies have formed a powerful coalition against us then, I hope, find that the arm of our brave allies reaches the weak spots in their world position."

The imperial chancellor said that since the reichstag had expressed the first resolution of the whole people to undertake the war great deeds had been accomplished and the incomparable gallantry of the German troops had carried the war into the enemy's country.

"There we will stand firm," declared the chancellor, "and can regard the future with every confidence. But the enemy's resistance is not broken. We are not yet at the end of our sacrifices. The nation will continue to support these sacrifices with the same heroism as hitherto, for we must and will fight to a successful end our defensive war for right and for freedom. We then will remember how our defenseless compatriots in hostile countries were maltreated, in a manner which is a disgrace to civilization. The world must learn that none can hurl a hair on the head of a German subject, with impunity.

"It is evident to us who is responsible for this greatest of all wars. The apparent responsibility falls on those in Russia who ordered and executed the mobilization of the Russian army; the real responsibility falls on the British government. The cabinet at London could have made the war impossible if it had declared as it now argues that England would not allow a continental war to develop from the Austro-Servian conflict.

CORN SHOW DRAWS CROWD TO CAPITOL

List of Additional Prizes Has Been Made Public--Remarkable Exhibits Made by Boys and Girls.

The second day of the corn show at the state capitol proved that the boys and girls of the corn clubs, canning clubs and pig clubs are by no means the only people interested in the work they are doing. Neither does the interest lie wholly among the farmers.

On Wednesday hundreds of Atlantans, many of whom probably have not been on a farm in years, went to the state capitol to see the splendid exhibits that the boys and girls have brought to Atlanta. None of the visitors had anything but words of highest praise for the fine exhibits.

This inspection by the city folks was not of a casual nature, either. Among those who went to the capitol on Wednesday was a group of Atlanta's leading manufacturers and a number of

WAYCROSS MAYOR ROUGHLY HANDLED IN FIGHT AT POLLS

Waycross, Ga., December 2.—(Special.)—In a free for all fight at the Dunn annex precinct in today's primary, J. A. Tomberlin, Atlantic Coast Line conductor, and J. W. Highsmith came to blows following a statement concerning a contributor to the civic league. Both men inflicted stinging blows on the other, and when efforts were made to stop the fight, Mayor Scott T. Begto and O. S. Crawford became involved, the latter pulling the mayor to one side in such a manner that spectators thought another fight was under way.

A few moments later Mr. Tomberlin made another effort to grab a list of names Mayor Beaton had in his hand, but a spectator interfered and the trouble died down almost as suddenly as it began. The mayor's interference, according to his statement tonight, was merely to keep any one from jumping on Mr. Highsmith, while he was down. The treatment accorded the mayor created a lot of excitement.

Andrew B. Estes was nominated for city recorder in today's primary over two opponents, getting a majority of 68 votes. Alderman J. A. Lott was renominated in the first, getting a majority of 92 votes. Charles L. Morgan had no opposition in the third. Lloyd C. Warren won by a plurality of 30 votes over T. H. Miller in the fifth.

V. L. Stanton, Dr. J. L. Walker and John W. Bennett were renominated as members of the board of education, the latter winning over Dr. R. P. Ieelar by only 7 votes.

EIGHT MEN TO DIE AT "HANGING BEE" STAGED BY ARIZONA

Phoenix, Ariz., December 2.—Eight men, instead of eleven, will die at Arizona's "Hanging Bee," December 19, as the result of a stay of execution granted today by Governor Hunt. The men will be executed one by one, the board of control has decided, instead of simultaneously, as the governor and R. B. Sims, warden of the penitentiary, wished. Sims protested that no human executioner could stand the strain of springing the trap eleven times.

The stay of execution was granted to three men pending outcome of their appeals for a new trial.

SUFFERING COMES IN TRAGEDY'S WAKE

Large Family of W. E. Ormond, Killed by Negro, Is at Mercy of World—Help Is Badly Needed.

W. E. Ormond, paralytic, the sole support of a struggling family, is dead. He died of bullet wounds from the pistol of a negro desperado whom he fought to protect the family for which he had slaved and battled until his fingers were drawn and his shoulders stooped and worn.

There were three wounds, but they took a long time to kill him. He had battled so long and steadily against the vicissitudes of a bleak life that three leaden pellets could not kill him. An unyielding victim. Now, though, since he has given up the battle of life, its doubly difficult responsibilities have been thrown upon the shoulders of his stricken survivors, only one of whom is able to take them up.

A large delegation from the Federation of Trades came to The Constitution office Wednesday and brought the paper's attention to the pitiful plight of the Ormond home. If something isn't done, there will be immediate suffering. But something is going to be done.

The Constitution, for a Christmas fund, has given a check for $25.

Now, who's next?

A Pitiful Case.

There'll be few homes as sad this Christmas as the little Ormond home out at 53 Cooper street. In the first place, it has been doubly blighted by tragedy and poverty. Time may wear away the bitterest effects of the tragedy, but the wolf of poverty is a beast that howls before the door. His cries, instead of growing weaker with time, grow fiercer.

The Ormonds have eight children, only one of whom is able to work. They range all the way from 2½ years to 20, and they include an invalid girl, who requires the constant care of the mother. The boy of 18 has recently obtained employment. He is serving his apprenticeship in the armature room of the Georgia Railway and Power company. His entire wages go weekly to the support of the stricken home. He makes but $4 a week.

And, to add to all that, the invalid girl, Miss Willie Ormond, is in sore need of medical attention. She could probably be restored to normal health if a trained surgeon were put in charge of her case. The $50 that will be derived by the family from the Contract Lodge No. 43, I. A. of M., in

REBEL LEADER DE WET TAKEN IN SOUTH AFRICA

After Pledging Loyalty to Great Britain, De Wet Tried to Raise a Rebellion.

London, December 3.—(1:02 a. m.)—General Christian De Wet, leader of the rebellion in the Union of South Africa, has been captured, according to a Pretoria official dispatch to the Reuters.

General Christian De Wet rose to fame as commander-in-chief of the Orange Free State forces in the South African war. Starting as a burgher in the Heilbron commando, he later was appointed commandant at Ladysmith and was sent to relieve General Conje as second in command. When General Conje surrendered, De Wet was made commander-in-chief.

He was one of the signatories of the peace conference after the war and later was minister of agriculture in the Orange River colony.

General De Wet, at the outbreak of the war, offered a corps of South African Boers to General Botha. Later he protested against the action of the Union of South Africa in fighting the Germans and took the field against the British forces.

General De Wet several times has been reported as meeting with reverses and once as having been wounded. One of his sons was killed in the fighting and two sons are said to have surrendered.

RIOTS IN VALPARAISO AGAINST TRAM RATES

FINAL DECISION TO BE MOMENTOUS.

According to dispatches reaching here from Petrograd, Lowics and Lodz still are critical points in the fighting in Northern Poland, where the final decision, when it does come, bids fair to be the most momentous of the whole war.

Petrograd puts especial emphasis on the capture of German ammunition barges on the Vistula river, near Plock, as indicating the cutting off of a convenient means of communication with the German armies in Poland.

If it be true that the Germans have freed themselves from the present danger of a crushing defeat in Poland, the situation to the north and south is still pictured as menacing for them. The importance of the campaign to the north is indicated by the fact that Em-

ALLIES TO TAKE OFFENSIVE IN WEST.

While there is every indication that another big battle is imminent in the west, there is no evidence that it actually has begun. There has been fighting in Flanders but this doubtless is the result of the allies' attempt to take advanced positions. There also are reports that the Germans have evacuated several villages on the Yser canal and are concentrating on new positions.

The British have taken over command of the Yser region, and, like the French, have been strongly reinforced. It is believed that on the first sign of a German movement to the east in considerable force, the allies will take the offensive in the west.

Heavy fighting has been resumed in the region of the Argonne Forest to the north of the eastern end of the battle line in France, and although today's French and German official communications disagree as to the outcome, it was apparent that the conflict is marked with considerable violence.

The German emperor's own regiment was selected to make a desperate and strong French position which the Berlin statement says was held by the French statement, in referring to what apparently was the same engagement, says that the attack was repulsed and that progress was made by the allied troops.

At other points in the line fighting has become more spirited than has been the case for some time. According to the latest statement, gratifying progress has been won by the allies in certain sections, including the occupation of German trenches.

GERMANS REPULSED IN MIDNIGHT ATTACKS.

Petrograd, December 2.—The official statement issued from general headquarters tonight says:

"On December 1 there was a relative calm on all the fronts. On the region of Lowicz the action continued, but with some lessening intensity.

"Towards midnight the enemy, launching compact columns, made a fierce attack against our positions north of Lodz, but was repulsed."

The Army Messenger in a review of the fighting during the period from November 23 to 30, says:

"On the Russo-Prussian frontier the Germans have maintained their fortified positions and have been making attacks of little importance. These operations seem to be chosen when our army corps have kept their dispositions.

"The German offensive in the region of Lowicz was repulsed by the advance guards and cavalry, who inflicted heavy losses on the enemy. The same fate befell the German offensive at Dombrovo and Schuteoff.

"On the Galician front we are advancing with ever increasing success."

GERMANS CLAIM GAINS IN EAST AND WEST.

Berlin, December 2.—(By wireless to London.)—The German official statement issued today claims the capture of a strong French position in the Argonne forest by Emperor William's own regiment.

The text of the communication reads:

"In the western theater of the war the enemy made insignificant advances which were checked.

"In the forest of Argonne a strong point of support of the enemy was taken by the Wurttemberg infantry regiment No. 120, his majesty, the kaiser's, own regiment. In this occasion two officers and about 300 of the enemy's troops were made prisoners.

"There is no news from eastern Prussia.

"In northern Poland the battles are taking their normal course.

"In southern Poland the enemy's attacks were repulsed.

"The report published in the foreign press that the 23,000 prisoners taken by us at Lowicz are counted in the 40,000 Russian prisoners reported by us previously, is untrue.

"In the battles of Wloclawek, Kutno, Lodz and Lowicz, the eastern army has taken between the 11th of November and the 1st of December over 90,000 unwounded Russian prisoners."

FRENCH CLAIM TO MAKE PROGRESS.

Paris, December 2.—The following official communication was issued by the war office tonight:

"In Belgium a violent bombardment of Lampernisse, west of Dixmude, has taken place.

"In the Argonne region the enemy has blown up by a mine the salient northwest of the forest of La Grurie. On the whole we are continuing our progress on that part of the front.

"In Alsace our troops have taken the town of Aschwiller-Haut and Aspach-Le-Bas, southeast of Thann. On the west of the front all is calm, save to report.

The war office gave out an announcement this afternoon as follows:

"In the region to the south of Ypres and Saint Eloy an attack of the enemy against an entrenchment taken by our troops during the day was repulsed by us. Our artillery inflicted damage on a group of three batteries of heavy artillery of the enemy.

"At Vermelles in the chateau and the park surrounding it, two houses in the village and some trenches were brilliantly occupied by our troops.

"There has been a spirited artillery exchange in the vicinity of Fay, to the southwest of Peronne.

"In the region between Vendresse-Craonne, there has been a violent bombardment to which the French artillery replied with success, accomplishing the destruction of a battery.

"In the Argonne a German attack against Fontaine Madame was repulsed, and we made some progress in the occupation of a trench in the forest of Courtes Chausses, and a minor fortified position near St. Hubert.

"On the heights of the Meuse, in the Woevre district, and in the Vosges there is nothing to report."

EMPEROR OF AUSTRIA MAY DIE ANY MOMENT

London, December 2.—Truth says today that news has been received privately that Emperor Francis Joseph, of Austria, is in a very feeble state of health and it is thought a fatality may die any day and probably quite suddenly.

Emperor Francis-Joseph has failed dreadfully in every way, the weekly says, since he hurriedly returned to Vienna from Ischl, when the war broke out and he now is described as being in a miserable state of weakness and depression.

Rome, December 2.—Today was the sixty-sixth anniversary of Emperor Francis-Joseph's assumption of the Austro-Hungarian throne. Mass was celebrated in the Austrian church here in the presence of the Austrian and German ambassadors and a small contingent of the Austro-Hungarian colony. Police were on hand to prevent any untoward incidents.

The Messager O matin says that in Austria the watch of the police over citizens is becoming intolerable. Nobody, the papers say, was allowed on the streets today unless he wore a yellow and black badge as a sign of rejoicing over the imperial anniversary.

OLD BRITISH ADMIRAL RELEASED BY GERMANS

Washington, December 2.—On personal representations from President Wilson through Ambassador Gerard, Germany has released Admiral Neeld, retired, of the British navy, and his wife, who were held military prisoners at a German health resort.

Admiral Neeld, a son-in-law of Admiral Fisher, first lord of the British admiralty, was left at Cuxhaven during the exodus of refugees at the beginning of the war. It was reported that he and Mrs. Neeld were held as military prisoners, in retaliation for the detention in England of a son of Admiral von Tirpitz, of the German navy, captured during the engagement off Cuxhaven. President Wilson made representations on an appeal from the British ambassador here, and today Ambassador Gerard cabled news of the release of the admiral and Mrs. Neeld.

BELGRADE IS OCCUPIED BY AUSTRIAN TROOPS

Former Servian Capital Falls After Siege Lasting Several Months.

Vienna, December 2.—(Via London.) Austrian troops today occupied Belgrade, Servia.

The occupation of the city was announced in a telegram to Emperor Francis Joseph from General Frank, commander of the fifth army corps. The message follows:

"On the occasion of the sixty-sixth anniversary of your reign permit me to lay at your feet the information that Belgrade is today occupied by the fifth army corps."

The city of Belgrade, which was the capital of Servia until the seat of government was removed shortly after the outbreak of the war, has been under attack by the Austrians much of the time for the last four months. Early in August Austrian troops reached the city, but were unable to hold it. The advance of a new Austrian army through northern Servia during the last fortnight made the position of the Servian troops in Belgrade a hazardous one and early today it was reported from Sofia, Bulgaria, that the city had been evacuated.

MORE VICTORIES WON BY THE AUSTRIANS.

Paris, December 2.—Semi-official advices received today by the Havas agency from Nish contain the admission that the Austrians have won further victories in Servia. After a number of engagements during the last few days the Servian troops were forced to fall back on December 1 from the region around Oudjitza and Valjevo. The retreat, it is said, was made in good order.

Heavy fighting has occurred near Souvabor, where the Austrians concentrated large forces and succeeded in capturing two important points.

The fighting along the Kolubara river is said to have been attended with some success for the Servians. In an engagement near Lazarevac on November 28 the Servians are reported to have taken positions of the enemy, capturing twenty-seven officers and about 2,000 men.

LONG RANGE TORPEDOES NEEDED BY U. S. NAVY

Washington, December 2.—Lack of long ranged torpedoes is declared a paramount weakness of the United States navy by Rear Admiral Joseph Strauss, chief of the ordnance bureau, in his annual report today to Secretary Daniels. All battleships, except the two latest dreadnaughts, armored cruisers of the Tennessee class, scout cruisers and the older destroyers, the admiral says, are equipped with a "short range torpedo which may be considered obsolete for the battle fleet."

Since the battleships Nevada and Oklahoma were designed, however, all new vessels have been provided with the modern torpedo and as rapidly as possible the equipment of older ships is being changed.

Admiral Straus thinks improvement in the efficiency of officers and men who handle this branch of the navy's work has not even kept pace with the slow development of material.

"The bureau is of the opinion," he says, "that the torpedo material has developed much more rapidly than the torpedo personnel."

In the face of renewed agitation for an exterior explosive the admiral reiterates his faith in the armor-piercing explosive. "The bureau," he says, "is more than ever inclined to the opinion that the best projectiles for the armor-piercing type combining sufficient explosive to detonate and fragment on the projectile after having passed through armor; and it is thought that the penetrative power of projectiles has been increased to insure a satisfactory percentage of success."

Experiments to determine the relative value of different types of armor plate are said to have shown the existing type to be superior to all others.

RED CROSS ATTENTION FOR HORSES IN WAR

Washington, December 2.—President Wilson today showed a movement to have the Geneva convention, under which Red Cross societies operate, extended to give attention for horses in war. Word of the president's action was cabled to the nurses on the Battlefield Purple Cross service, an organization formed in the European area.

Senator Walsh, of Montana, and Rev. Ernest Smith, of Washington, brought the movement to Mr. Wilson's attention. They told him injured horses were allowed to lay on the battlefields without care, and that there was great need for veterinary ambulance corps to treat them.

The proposed extension of the convention will be discussed at a meeting in Geneva this month.

PAN-AMERICAN ACTION REGARDING NEUTRALITY

Board Representing Twenty American Republics to Consider Grave Controversies.

Washington, December 2.—Grave controversies between nations of South America and European belligerents led today to the calling of a conference for next Tuesday of the governing board of the Pan-American union.

Before this board, comprising diplomatic representatives of twenty American republics, with the secretary of state of the United States as chairman ex-officio, will come various suggestions made by Argentina, Chile, Peru, Uruguay and Ecuador for a stronger assertion of the rights of neutrals and the exclusion of belligerent warships from American waters.

Evidence of the seriousness of the situation in South America due to the presence of belligerent warships on both coasts was contained in a dispatch tonight to Eduardo Suarez-Mujica, the Chilean ambassador, from the minister of foreign affairs at Santiago. Chilean officials express a fear that the alleged violations of Chilean neutrality may influence other belligerents to disregard the territorial jurisdiction of Chile and perhaps cause them to send warships within the 3-mile limit to stop German operations.

The Chilean government urged that whatever steps are taken should have the earnest and united support of all the American republics.

Dangers Are Emphasized.

Originally Great Britain and France asked the United States to exercise its good offices with Ecuador and Colombia to obtain a strict observance by these nations of neutrality obligations. Although this controversy, according to latest reports, is being adjusted, the situation in Chile has emphasized the dangers to South American republics of the continued presence of foreign warships off their coasts.

Since the outbreak of the war the South American countries have asked the United States for co-operation in a move to restore trade conditions. Peru suggested a neutral zone with meridians as boundaries on both the Atlantic and Pacific sides of the two continents.

Another country proposed extension of the territorial jurisdiction of all countries from the 3-mile limit to a sufficient distance which would permit coastwise trade to move unmolested. Ecuador and Argentina asked that a meeting of the governing board of the Pan-American union be called to discuss questions of neutral interest to all nations in this hemisphere. Chile suggested a plan to permit belligerent ships to obtain only a sufficient quantity of coal to carry them to the ports of an adjacent country.

England Shows Willingness.

England already has shown willingness to accept this proposal which would amend the rules of The Hague conventions. Colombia has for some time followed this method in dealing with foreign warships.

Out of the mass of suggestions, the most feasible for the present in the view of President Wilson and Secretary Bryan was the discussion through the Pan-American union's governing board of ways and means of dealing with questions of neutrality which the war has placed upon them.

Mexico, also, was discussed among Washington diplomats when the purpose of the meeting became generally known. The knowledge that the nations of the hemisphere would endeavor informally to promote understanding so they would speak as with one voice in dealing with questions received with marked attention by European diplomats who are following the movement closely.

ITALIAN PARLIAMENT REASSEMBLES TODAY

Rome, December 2.—The Italian parliament will reassemble tomorrow and the deliberations are awaited with anxiety as this is considered the gravest moment for Italy since its unification. Four hundred and fifty deputies and 300 senators are in Rome to attend the session.

Premier Salandra, presenting the new cabinet, will make a statement concerning the ministerial policy. It will deal with Italy's attitude towards the war and the premier will explain the reasons that actuate the government in maintaining "armed and watchful neutrality."

The statement will contain an announcement of military and naval preparations, for which almost $200,000,000 has been appropriated in the European area.

Steps taken to alleviate suffering of the unemployed.

Leaders of the various groups will make brief speeches and it is expected senators and deputies will unite in showing confidence in the cabinet with a view of proving the Italian government's solidarity before the foreign powers. Pressure in this direction has been made on the socialists, who may show some opposition.

LAW ON SUBMARINES EXPOUNDED TO SCHWAB

Bryan Wants to Know if Steel Master Intends to Build Boats for Belligerents.

Washington, December 2.—The United States government today formally inquired of the Bethlehem Steel company if the firm intended to construct submarines for use by European belligerents.

Charles M. Schwab, president of the company, and other officials of the concern, in response to an invitation from the state department, explained orally their position and agreed to submit it in writing in a few days. In the meantime neither they nor the state department officials would disclose the extent of the company's activities.

Question Under Consideration.

The question under consideration is how far American firms may go in the manufacture of materials for use in the construction of war craft without violating United States neutrality laws.

Although the export of arms and ammunition, horses, motor trucks, shells and even large guns is not prohibited and a neutral is not obligated by international law to prevent their shipment, a different attitude is assumed in law toward the building or equipping of a foreign warship on neutral territory.

According to high officials, the point which will decide the Washington government's position will be a determination of the stage in which materials to be used in the building of a vessel will be delivered to a belligerent. They would not comment on where the line of demarcation would be put, but was generally believed, however, the shipment at one time of all the parts of a vessel, even though in separate cargos, probably would be disapproved.

On the other hand, shipment of certain parts as soon as manufactured from which belligerents might construct submarines abroad, it was thought, would be regarded as a purely commercial transaction not dissimilar to the export of other war materials subject to seizure as absolute contraband on the high seas.

Under United States Laws.

Under the laws of the United States it is a misdemeanor to fit out or arm any vessel if it is to be employed in the service of any belligerent nation with which this country is at peace. Similarly The Hague convention of 1907, ratified by the United States, says:

"A neutral government is bound to use diligence to prevent the departure from its jurisdiction of any vessel destined to cruise or take part in hostile operations and which shall have been adapted, wholly or in part, to warlike use within such jurisdiction.

In the last part of this article referring to the adaptation of "any vessel" which shall have been "adapted, wholly or in part," will be ruling of the American government be based in the present case.

During the Russo-Japanese war, however, an American firm built the parts of several submarines, consigned them to its own agency in Russia, and then sold them to the Russian government. Although the transaction was kept secret until the shipment was concluded, it was generally held at that time that no law had been violated.

NO MERRY CHRISTMAS ON GIFTS TO BELGIANS

New York, December 2.—Not even the words "Merry Christmas" may be written on packages of supplies sent to the starving Belgians.

The local commission for relief in Belgium announced today that an inscription inside or outside the package might subject the entire consignment to confiscation by the ruthless Prussian military code message. In one case, a shipload of goods bound for Rotterdam, Holland, was held up a month because of a single word printed on a Christmas sign.

The prohibition extends to expressions of sympathy and even initials of senders. The neutrality conditions under which goods go from Rotterdam into Belgium are that positively no item or number of any description is permitted to which German officials could object.

WAR IS INCREASING AMERICAN COMMERCE

Estimated Year of Conflict Will Add $500,000,000 to United States' Trade.

Washington, December 2.—That one year of the war in Europe will add $500,000,000 to the foreign commerce of the United States is the estimate of Edward E. Pratt, chief of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce. Mr. Pratt has just completed a study of the reports of American consuls and commercial representatives abroad, of agents of his bureau in this country and of the new orders for American manufactures and products reported in commercial periodicals.

If the ratio of increase recorded since August, when the war began, is maintained until next August, he estimates new orders placed on the books of American firms will total half a billion dollars.

As specific data upon which to base his estimates, Mr. Pratt has the report of J. Massel, special commercial agent now en route to South America to study the machine tool market there and prepare a review of South American needs for use of American manufacturers. In preparation for his trip he visited virtually every large American manufacturing plant and estimated the machine tool manufacturing companies alone have from $10,000,000 to $15,000,000 in new orders from European countries. One big plant, he said, has enough work to keep it in full operation twenty-four hours a day for the next two years. Several concerns already are preparing to increase their facilities.

The first country among the belligerents to seek the American machine tool supply was Russia, which has ordered lathes and machines of all kinds. Russia's demand has been growing steadily, presumably because the war had excluded that country from her usual source of supply in Germany. England and France now have joined in seeking American tools and it is indicated present supply cannot meet the demand. Problems of delivery still have to be met, but the business is of the most valuable type since orders are, as a rule, accompanied by cash.

In reaching his calculation on the estimated grand total, Mr. Pratt took into consideration the enormous increase in European-bound food supplies noted in September and October. Details of the November foreign commerce were not available beyond the estimate that a trade balance in favor of the United States of approximately $70,000,000. Department officials are aware, however, that increases in food shipments has continued and that manufactured articles are beginning to move across the Atlantic in considerable volume.

The sinews of the kangaroo are especially desirable for use in surgery, for sewing wounds and binding broken bones together.

CORN SHOW DRAWS CROWD TO CAPITOL

prominent business men from the east. A prominent local wholesale dealer declared to a New Yorker who is visiting in Atlanta that "corn is the salvation of the south."

Keen Interest Shown.

All these prominent men were busy asking keen and pertinent questions as to the methods of production, whether the examples of production shown by the corn club boys would hold up under an extensive acreage and many other such inquiries.

"Uncle Jim" Price, state commissioner of agriculture, was stalking about the capitol lobbies as if he were the lord of the universe. His portly bosom seemed to swell to even greater proportions than usual as he inspected the various exhibits.

"Fine, I tell you," he commented. "This certainly looks like living to me. It is undoubtedly the best show of its sort that has ever been held in the southern states."

Little Miss Myrtle Bryant, 11 years old, of Cohutta, Whitfield county, who, with her little red coat, red hat and rosy cheeks, is quite unlike the little "Red Riding Hood" of the story grandmas used to tell, was the center of many admiring groups on Wednesday as the awkward "big boys," who are sometimes prone to turn up a disdainful nose at such little misses, stood afar and gazed upon this little girl with awe, for she had beat them all raising pigs. She is the proud owner and raiser of a 648-pound pig, ten months old, which cost her but four cents per pound to raise.

When she was asked how she did it she said:

"Papa says I did everything but sleep with piggy."

Alfred Boys' Exhibit.

Of courses, everybody stopped to take a look at the exhibit of the Alfred boys, which made such a record at the state fair at Macon. The records of these boys are: Luther, 227 bushels of corn to the acre; Arthur, 187 bushels to the acre; Clarence, 220 bushels to the acre.

A remarkable four-crop record is that of Pascal Muse, of Carroll county, who raised on a single acre 142 bushels of oats, valued at $95.50; 77 bushels of corn, valued at $51.05; 5,248 pounds of hay, valued at $42.21, and 2,325 pounds of cotton, valued at $56.63, making a total value of $246.49.

Several hundred boys and a score or more of girls came to the show from various parts of the state on Wednesday and many more will arrive on Thursday.

Plenty of Homes.

So generously has Atlanta responded to the call for homes for the visitors that there are more homes now than there are boys and girls to go around and many people who had hoped to entertain some of the visitors have been disappointed. This is due largely to the fact that many of the boys and girls had already made arrangements to stay with kin folks in the city.

Before the week is over practically every corn club in the state will have had representatives at the show. Already many of them have substantial delegations here.

The Walton County club, which is among the newest clubs, having been organized only within the last year, has twenty-eight boys here. Despite its youth it is one of the leading clubs of the state, having a membership of some 200 or more with 120 reports. Two members of this club have raised over 100 bushels of corn to the acre. These are Robert Moon, who raised 104 bushels, and Hariston Chaney, who raised 101 bushels. This club is under the direction of Professor Eugene Baker, farm demonstration agent for Walton county. Mr. Clark, editor of the Loganville Record, has done a great deal to boost this club along.

List of New Prizes.

In addition to the list of prizes already offered, the following list of additional prizes was made public on Wednesday:

One bale of middling cotton, given by Empire Guano company, Athens, Ga.

One bale of cotton, given by Southern States Fertilizer company, Augusta, Ga.

Class II. C-A—One 12-inch Diamond sulky plow, given by the P. & O. Plow company, of St. Louis, Mo.

Class II. J-A—One Vulcan combination subsoil and middlebreaker plow, given by W. J. Dabney Implement company, Atlanta.

Class II. J-B—One Oliver chilled two-horse plow, given by W. J. Dabney Implement company, Atlanta.

Class II. O—One Oliver goober plow, given by W. J. Dabney Implement company, Atlanta.

Pictures of Pigs.

Four hundred eager boys and girls of the Corn, Pig and Canning clubs of Georgia packed in to the Chamber of Commerce auditorium last night.

The feature of the evening was the showing of fifty stereopticon slides by J. E. Downing, state agent for the Pig clubs, a large number of which were pictures showing two pigs of the same litter, one raised by a Corn club boy and one by his father, the one raised by the boy being actually five or six times as big as his father's.

The speakers were introduced by H. G. Hastings, the well-known seed man, who declared, as did the other speakers that followed him, that "so long as you have credit on cotton and the men in the city put it up as the one collateral, you are going to have cotton crises." Regarding this, the state agent, J. D. Price, state commissioner of agriculture, said to the boys:

"The thing for you to do is to work out your own salvation. The remedies are the very ones who have been the cause of farmers raising as much cotton as they do. The first question they ask when the farmer comes to borrow money is 'how many acres have you planted in cotton?'

"But, boys, don't get the one crop idea. They tell you that you ought to diversify, and you knew that before they ever told you."

In the address of Dr. A. L. Hirleman, of Athens, Ga., in charge of the work of eradication of hog cholera, he stated that there is absolutely no cure for hog cholera and that the farmers of Georgia had as well realize it. There is, he said, a temporary prevention effective for thirty to ninety days after application.

O. B. Martin, of Washington, D. C., in charge of the Corn club work for the federal department of agriculture, made an appeal to the boys to stay on the farm.

Moving pictures were shown of last year's parade of the pig show, and of agricultural students of the State college at work. The pictures were shown by O. W. Frror, of the State Agricultural college, Athens.

BELL CHARGES WIFE WITH STABBING HIM

Following his wife last night into a Decatur street rooming house, L. A. Bell, of 22 Cooper street, emerged shortly afterwards with a stab wound in his right side and left arm, which he told Policemen Powell and Whitney had been inflicted by his wife and another woman, named Alma Maloney.

The two women were placed under arrest and charged with stabbing. Bell was sent to the hospital and later held as a witness in the case by the police.

ATTEMPT TO BURGLARIZE MALONE HOME FAILS

A well-dressed young white man attempted to burglarize the home of Edward F. Malone, 32 West Twelfth street, about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, according to Officers Carroll and Gantt, who went to the scene.

The servant girl told the officers that the young man had come to the front door and insisted on entering the house, and that when she refused, he drew a pistol on her. She slammed the door, and called the police.

Another burglar began making preparations for his Christmas dinner by robbing the hencoop of Lula Hampton, 293 McDaniel street, of two turkeys and three chickens.

HE WOULD MUZZLE MEN AS CHECK TO DISEASE

Dr. Ebersole Declares Muzzle Would Be in the Interest of Humanity.

Jacksonville, Fla., December 2.—"Stop kissing if you can, arrest the spitter if you will, prohibit the public drinking cup if you must, and you have made progress; but to give humanity what it is entitled to from a hygienic standpoint you would have to legislate muzzles on more than 90 per cent of the people."

This declaration was made by Dr. W. G. Ebersole, secretary and treasurer of the National Mouth Hygiene association, at the joint meeting of that organization with the American Public Health association here today.

"We muzzle dogs to avoid one kind of disease," continued Dr. Ebersole, "why not muzzle man to avoid the many other kinds of disease? It might be ideal, but hardly practical."

Among the speakers at today's sessions of the convention were Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, of Washington, D. C.; Frederick L. Hoffman and others.

Bad teeth cause the most serious health problems of the day, according to Dr. Wiley. The speaker submitted figures showing that out of 19,230 school children examined in Washington, more than 9,000 had teeth which required treatment.

NOLAN GIVEN 20 YEARS AS L. & N. TRAIN BANDIT

Again Found Guilty of Daring Hold-Up Near Atlanta.

Marietta, Ga., December 2.—(Special.)—John Nolan, convicted early this year in Cobb county of holding up and robbing a Louisville and Nashville train on the outskirts of Atlanta, and who later got a new trial from the court of appeals, was again found guilty here this afternoon. He was sentenced by Judge H. L. Patterson to 20 years in the penitentiary.

The evidence given today was the same as that presented at the former trial and the jury reached its decision after a deliberation of but a few minutes.

ELECTION IN TIFTON MAY BE CONTESTED

Tifton, Ga., December 2.—(Special.) In today's municipal election for three members of the city council T. E. Phillips and W. W. Bryan, of the administration ticket, won and R. Eve and E. L. Ireland tied for the third place.

It was the closest and hottest municipal election Tifton has ever had. Out of a total registration of 367, even 350 votes were polled. The council chambers were crowded with men anxious to vote when the polls opened and 133 votes were cast the first hour.

This is the official count: T. E. Phillips, 182; W. W. Bryan, 181; R. Eve, 177; E. L. Ireland, 177; V. F. Dinsmore, 169; W. H. Spooner, 161.

Of the three holdover members two belong to the anti-Tift and one to the Tift faction. The anti-Tift faction elects two of the few members, which will give them a two-thirds majority on the 1915 council.

A few votes were challenged. The city charter requires twelve months residence which it is claimed is in conflict with the state law, which requires only six months residence in the county. A few who voted have resided in the city for less than one year and on this ground the votes were challenged. As a result of these challenges the election may be contested, as a change of six votes would change the result.

MARSHALL AND FARLOW ESCAPE FROM CHAINGANG

When Overtaken by Bloodhounds the Two Convicts Kill the Dogs.

Edward P. Marshall, alias "Rhynata," the magician bandit, who was under a four years' sentence for attempted robbery of the Atlanta State Savings bank, 200 Auburn avenue, last February, and Jerry Farlow, youthful Atlanta yeggman, escaped from the Fayette county chaingang, Wednesday afternoon, and are reported to be headed toward Atlanta.

Warden Harris, of Fayetteville, Ga., came to Atlanta last night in an automobile to seek the aid of the Atlanta police. Sergeant Bullard and Officer Shaw returned with him.

Warden Harris said that the two men simply walked off, daring the guard to shoot. They were tracked 15 miles by bloodhounds, which they killed when overtaken by the dogs near Faver's Mill pond.

Rhynata had several letters from his pretty actress wife, who lived with him in Atlanta, according to Warden Harris. They were from some place in Kansas. "I looked for them to notify the authorities there, but Rhynata had carefully destroyed them," said the warden.

Farlow was serving a sentence of ten years for the murder of A. D. Freeman, nightwatchman of the Aragon, Ga., mill commissary, who was shot and killed by yeggmen, the night of March 28, when he flushed the gang on the job.

A reward of $35 is offered for the capture of each of the convicts.

Rhynata is described as 41 years old, 6 feet high, brown hair, gray eyes, 160 pounds weight, having a small scar on right hand. He wore nose glasses.

Farlow is described as 23 years old, 5 feet high, brown hair, blue eyes, 130 pounds weight, with bullet wound through thigh of left leg, tattoo on both arms, and dice tattoo on left hand.

CARNIVAL QUEEN ANNOUNCED TODAY

who will be selected as queen of the carnival will be made known officially at noon. At that time the ballot box containing the votes will be taken to the office of the Lowry National bank, where the count will be made. St. Elmo Massengale, president of the Atlanta Ad Men's club, which is fostering the carnival, and a committee comprising Harry Goodhart, W. A. Simms and Evelyn Harris, will deliver the ballot box to Colonel William Lawson Peel. Colonel Robert J. Lowry and a third prominent Atlantan whom these bankers will select. The bankers will open the box in the presence of the general public and the result of the voting will be announced in time to notify the queen so that she may take part in the afternoon procession along with King Lindsey Hopkins and the royal court.

Bankers to Make Count.

"The counting will be open and fair in every respect," said Mr. Massengale Wednesday. "No representative of the Ad Men's club will have any part in the actual count. We shall deliver the ballot box, which is properly sealed, to the three bankers and they will direct the count. Certainly may the most popular young woman win."

There are ten candidates for honors, Miss Louise Parker and Miss Hattie Broyles having withdrawn from the contest because of illness.

Chairmen of the different committees appointed by the Ad Men's club to conduct the carnival held their final meeting Wednesday at luncheon in the M. & M. club as guests of Mr. Massengale. They put the finishing touches on the carnival plans and the big show will go through as originally booked. There isn't expected to be a hitch of any sort, unless the weather man gets on his high horse and decides to inflict some dire weather.

Promptly at 2 o'clock the parade, with their displays, will be on hand at the state capitol. At 2:30 o'clock precisely, Adjutant General Van Holt Nash will give the signal to "march," and there will begin a procession which, for its spectacular arrangement, has never before been equaled.

Great Crowds Coming.

Crowds are coming into Atlanta from all parts of the state to take part in the big celebration. Those who live here are getting their masks and costumes in shape for a "great day," and old General Fun will reign supreme. There won't be any room for "gloome," so if you're a pessimist you'd better take carriers somewhere and keep off Whitehall and Peachtree streets.

In the evening the coronation festivities and grand ball will take place in the Auditorium. This will be in the nature of a public reception and everyone will be welcome.

"The idea has got abroad that this is to be a society stunt exclusively," said Mr. Massengale Wednesday. "This is not true. There will be many social leaders there, but everyone with a dollar to buy a ticket will be welcome. And it won't be full dress, either, if there are those who prefer not to wear evening clothes. Let them come in their everyday regalia, and they will be just as welcome. This is a public ball, by and for the general public."

Coronation Ceremonies.

Coronation ceremonies will begin at 9 o'clock under the direction of the queen dowager, Mrs. William Lawson Peel. "King" Hopkins and the queen will be led to the throne and officially crowned, after which there will be a grand court parade around the big auditorium. Before the royal party leaves the stage, however, there will be exhibitions of modern and court dances by some of the greatest exponents of the art in this and other cities.

The queen will then officially declare the ball open and the general public may go as far as it likes in the dancing line until after the midnight hour. Many of the celebrators will be masked. The courtiers and their ladies will be grandly marshaled in the royal march and the whole affair will be one of spectacular beauty. For those who do not dance, the committee, headed by Jack Lewis, has provided comfortable seats from which they may view the coronation and the general dancing.

Truly, today will be one that will be long remembered in Atlanta's history. Let hog and hominy reign supreme.

G. M. A.'s Part of Parade.

When the committee asked the authorities of the Georgia Military academy to help out in making the great Hog and Hominy parade a success, the faculty and cadets decided upon something more than a mere military parade.

The first part of the G. M. A. section will be a white coach furnished by one of G. M. A.'s old cadets, Robert Woodruff, which will be decorated largely as a college car carrying the school banner and seating Mrs. Ethel Wickersham Kitchens, as chaperon of honor, with Misses Mildred Woodward, Sarah Pearl Martin, Estelle Harvey, from the Washington seminary, Miss Durrance, of Cox college, Miss Helen Smith, of College Park, as her maids of honor.

Following this auto will be a magnificent float drawn by four beautiful black horses furnished by the Southern Express company. This float will have a beautiful representation of the Georgia coat of arms covered in Georgia products and driven by Colonel John W. Wyat, representing General Oglethorpe, and bearing on the float the representatives of the two most distinguished Indians in Georgia's history, Tomichichi, who was Oglethorpe's first Indian friend, and General McIntosh, who ceded the large part of Georgia's lands to the white settlers. Miss Helen Coffee, seated on a throne of a bale of cotton, will represent Georgia, and will support in her right arm a magnificent cornucopia, from which will be poured a splendid profusion of Georgia products in the form of a pyramid. Standing on bales of hay on the same float will be three young ladies, Misses Marion Bradley, Edwina Harner and Edith McCool, representing Wisdom, Justice and Moderation.

Following this float will come the main cadet corps commanded by Major J. P. Castleman, of the regular army; a detachment of cavalry representing the cavalry arm of the service, one of the G. M. A. field guns mounted on a large truck furnished by Fain & Stamps, and commanded by Lieutenant C. C. McCall.

Next in the line will come the camp scene in command of Lieutenant Blocker, drawn by a splendid team furnished by Swift & Co., and carrying a section of cadets representing the engineering corps, followed by a detachment of cadets representing the signal corps, the last part of the parade being a representation of the ambulance corps furnished by Barclay & Brandon and driven by Robert Brandon, one of G. M. A.'s old men.

Schools Close Early.

Through the efforts of Julian Boehm, a prominent member of the Ad Men's club, all the public school children of the city will be given a half holiday, Wednesday commencing at 1 o'clock, in order that they may view the parade of the Hog and Hominy carnival and the Corn club boys. The official notice by Superintendent Slaton, granting the holiday, follows:

"By authority of President George M. Hope and a majority of the board of education, I direct that the principals dismiss their schools at 1 o'clock p. m., in honor of the Corn club parade.

"The Boys' high school and the Tech high school will take part in the parade according to instructions given.

(Signed) "WILLIAM M. SLATON,
"Superintendent of Public Schools."

ARBOR DAY IS FRIDAY.

Atlanta Schools Will Observe the Day Appropriately.

By request of Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin, president of the City Federation of Women's clubs, President Hope, of the board of education, and Superintendent Slaton officially notified the teachers in the public schools of Atlanta that on Friday "Arbor day" was to be observed. Each teacher of each grade is to devote a half an hour to a program which will include an explanation of the significance of Arbor day, and its relation to forestry, and the civic value of trees from a practical, as well as artistic standpoint.

The inspiration of the movement on the part of the federation comes this year from the Atlanta Burroughs club, which is one of the federated organization and an active agency in suggesting the observance of Arbor day in every school in the state.

Mrs. Lumpkin, finding that the schools could not generally observe the day without official direction, visited Superintendent Slaton and Mr. Hope, president of the board, and requested their interest, with the result that the schools will appropriately observe the day.

State School Commissioner Brittain has given his encouragement for several years to the observance of Arbor day in the state school system, and special programs have been formulated by the state school authorities and observed in the state schools, large and small.

DR. DANIEL NOT DECIDED.

Offered Place of Secretary of Baptist Mission Board.

Although unanimously elected corresponding secretary of the Georgia Baptist mission board, which is now holding its annual session in Atlanta, Dr. Charles W. Daniel, pastor of the First Baptist church, of this city, has not yet signified his acceptance. The board is highly solicitious that Dr. Daniel fill this important position, and a committee of three, Dr. John E. Purser, Dr. M. Ashby Jones and Dr. A. Chamlee, was appointed by Consul Commander Winburn, of J. C. Root camp, Atlanta, and State Deputy Nelson.

Before adjournment the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

A. S. Turner, consul commander; R. W. C. Ramspeck, first lieutenant; W. C. McLain, clerk; G. E. Everett, banker; C. W. Austin, escort; H. A. Kimball, watchman; Ernest Bailey, sentry; W. P. Little, manager three-year term; Drs. T. H. Goss, Sr., and James Pittman, physicians; Rev. F. D. Hunt, chaplain; P. F. Calhahan, delegate to head camp.

The contest was won by the team commanded by R. C. W. Ramspeck, and Mr. Ramspeck was given a handsome gold watch fob. G. C. Austin, who commanded the opposing team, was also presented with a gold fob. The contest added twenty members to the camp and a number of them were initiated last night. MEN AND RELIGION BULLETIN NO. 151.

An Open Letter To Our Mayor

The Honorable James G. Woodward,

Mayor of the City of Atlanta.

Dear Sir:—We gladly accept your word, when you say:

"Some people—shout out that I am trying to get Chief Beavers fired and restore the restricted district, but that is all foolishness.

"I have never taken the position that the district should be restored, but I have taken the position that the Police should be forced to give adequate protection to women and young girls who are on the street after dark."

We are gratified at this.

Surely you will agree with us that this protection should not be confined to the streets after dark.

THE ORDINANCE REQUIRING BOARDING HOUSE AND HOTEL KEEPERS to get a license from Council had for its chief object this, namely, to protect women and girls from worse than death in places masquerading as hotels or boarding houses. WILL YOU NOT PERSUADE THE POLICE COMMITTEE OF COUNCIL APPOINTED BY YOU TO STOP LICENSING KNOWN LAW-BREAKERS? They hamper the Police Force.

And to have a girl point to Atlanta's license as the cause of her ruin would be unbearable.

But women need even more protection than that given to them on the streets and in hotels and boarding houses.

The man who recently slashed with a razor the woman who refused to tell him the whereabouts of his wife was drunk. The burglar sentenced to ten years for breaking into the Wickersham home bought the liquor which crazed his brain, he says, at THE METROPOLITAN CLUB. His wife and children are wards of charity today. And the boy shot and killed at the door of THE OWLS' CLUB week before last had a mother. A dispute over the payment for a round of drinks unlawfully sold under a license granted by Council to law-breakers cost him his life.

The one found dead of a pistol bullet in the streets last week had been drinking.

THE LIQUOR TRAFFIC HAD ITS HAND IN AT LEAST SIX OF THE DEATHS BY VIOLENCE WHICH HAVE DISGRACED ATLANTA IN THE LAST SIX MONTHS.

Mr. Mayor: You spoke the truth when you said, "Unless something is done, the City is going to have a hard time checking lawlessness."

The County Policeman murdered last week was only another bit of the ghastly fruit of the willful and continued attacks upon men for doing their duty. Newspapers have ridiculed the Police. Special articles have suggested that they should be shot.

COUNCIL HAS TIED THEIR HANDS by licensing law-breakers to keep saloons and run locker clubs. While you, with the Police Board, have pursued this remarkable course: An officer reports men for misconduct in a negro dive. YOU REWARD HIM BY REDUCING HIM IN EFFECT TO RANKS. You were compelled to discharge the men. But recently in an attempt to put one of them back on the force together with two other men discharged for drunkenness, you tried unlawfully to repeal an ordinance of the City which makes the Chief of Police Chief in fact as well as in name.

You keep up a stream of abuse against the head of Atlanta's Police Force, charging him with incompetency, when you yourself, in violation of law, are trying to force him to accept on Atlanta's Police Force men discharged for worse than incompetency.

THE EFFICIENCY OF A POLICE FORCE DEMANDS NON-INTERFERENCE WITH ITS HEAD BY OUTSIDE PARTIES, WHETHER THEY BE CALLED BOARDS, COMMISSIONS OR OTHERWISE. THE HEAD OF A POLICE FORCE MUST BE FREE FROM THE CURSE OF CAVILING PETTY POLITICS. This, as you know, led to the passing of the ordinance which you have so recently tried to violate. Not only the City Council of Atlanta, but all students of City governments, recognize the principle. IT LED TO THE RECOMMENDATION MADE TO THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BY ITS EMPLOYED EFFICIENCY EXPERT THAT THE CITY OF ATLANTA WOULD BE BETTER OFF WITHOUT ITS POLICE BOARD.

RECORDER JOHNSON HAS POINTED OUT—ATLANTA HAS TOO FEW POLICEMEN TO PROPERLY PATROL THE CITY.

Men, reviewing the last two years, marvel at the morale, competency and efficiency of the Police Force and their Chief. Only these qualities have kept the city from becoming known from Maine to California and to the Gulf as the paradise of cracksmen and panderers.

Mr. Mayor: With malice towards none, but with a sincere desire to help, we ask for protection against this worked-up, but rising tide of lawlessness.

PRIVATE CITIZENS SHOULD NOT BE COMPELLED TO USE THE INJUNCTION TO CLOSE THESE LAW-BREAKING BARS AND LOCKER CLUBS WHICH ARE CAUSING AN EVER-WIDENING STAIN OF BLOOD IN THE CAPITAL OF GEORGIA. NEITHER SHOULD WE BE FORCED TO INVOKE THE RECALL TO PROTECT MEN FOR OBEYING LAW. WE HAVE NO WISH TO USE EITHER THE INJUNCTION OR THE RECALL. WE HAVE NO AXE TO GRIND.

No one of us is seeking office or will ever seek office.

WE BELONG TO NO CLIQUE. WE WANT YOU TO MAKE MORE THAN GOOD AS MAYOR OF THE GREATEST CITY OF THE SOUTH.

But lawlessness cannot curb law-breaking. The refusal of a public official to obey and enforce law is more destructive to good order than the law-breaking itself.

Mr. Mayor: We ask you to recall the race riot which in your former administration disgraced Atlanta before the world because lawlessness was not curbed in time.

This ever-increasing number of deaths by violence in our city can be stopped.

The last Grand Jury pointed the way when it pleaded for co-operation between our public officials.

WE ASK YOU, AS OUR MAYOR, TO BEGIN.

RECORDER JOHNSON and you have proposed to celebrate THE COMING BIRTHDAY OF CHRIST, OUR LORD, by releasing prisoners from the Stockade. Before that day, will you not lead in clearing Atlanta of law-breaking bars and locker clubs which are WAITING TO DRAG these poor devils and others back INTO THE CHAINGANG AND EVEN LOWER HELLS?

We beg you to co-operate in freeing Atlanta from crime.

The meaning of the curse of drink and law-breaking clubs has been indelibly stamped upon Atlanta's heart.

We urge you to protect women and mothers from the heart-break of seeing the blighted lives of sons and husbands.

Will you not put an end to Atlanta's sorrow and disgrace?

Respectfully,

Blood Remedy Sustains World

Myriads Have Learned of Its Remarkable Curative Value.

From the very fact that S. S. S., the famous blood purifier is a natural medicine, it is opposed by those who can not give up mercury and other dangerous drugs. But it is a stronger master. Afflicted people use mercury with a blind force of habit. Not warned by the rheumatism they see all around them, unmindful of the locomotor ataxia, paralysis and other dreaded results of mineral poisoning, they cling to the fast disappearing treatment so surely and positively being replaced by S. S. S., wherever the light strikes in. S. S. S. is fast becoming the world's panacea for all blood troubles because it is welcome to a weak stomach, is taken naturally into the blood, is a wave of purifying influence known by its remarkable curative results, and is the standby of a host of people.

It goes into the blood and remains a strong medicinal influence to the end and this without any other effect than that of a purely cleansing property.

It is the most universally recommended blood remedy known, and has sustained its reputation for half a century. Its ingredients are Nature's definite antidotes for germs that create our worst afflictions. Get a bottle today at any druggist. Refuse all substitutes. Write the medical department, The Swift Specific Co., 62 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for free advice on blood troubles, and how to overcome them. This department is one of the finest helps to men to be found anywhere, and it is entirely free.

COMMITTEE AWARDS PRIZES TO ROTARIANS

Carter Electric Co. Wins First, and Rountree & Bro. Second Prize.

The committee of prominent Atlanta women who were named by the Rotary club to select the prize-winners in the contest for the best decorated windows in the club's Healey building exhibition, announced on Wednesday the names of those firms which were entitled to first honors. They follow:

First Prize—Carter Electric company, for its general beauty effect and its utility.

Second Prize—H. W. Rountree & Brother, trunk manufacturers, for general effectiveness of exhibition.

Third Prize—McCord-Stewart company, wholesale grocers, for its instructive and unique display.

L. L. Shivers, who is chairman of the Rotary club exhibit committee, which arranged the show, is responsible for the Carter company exhibit that took first prize.

Have you seen that beautiful window of Rountree's at the Rotary exhibit in the Healey building? The committee awarded the second prize to this window on the general effectiveness of the display. The trunks, bags, suit cases and leather goods from the Rountree stock offer many suggestions that will aid in your Christmas selections. The entire display is worth a trip to the Healey building and especial attention is called to the Rountree window.

The committee of women which selected the prize winners comprised Mrs. Wilmer L. Moore, Mrs. Nellie Peters Black and Mrs. Kinlock Nelson.

The exhibition, which has been attracting thousands of persons because of its unusual attractiveness, is open to the general public. It will continue until Saturday night.

FIGHT LAUNCHED OVER CHEAPER GAS

"an octopus, whose tentacles are strangling the consumers of Atlanta," R. C. Turner, city electrician, arch foe of the Georgia Railway and Power company, charged Wednesday that the gas rate charged by the gas company is exorbitant, and advocated a campaign to force the company to cut its rate by 20 per cent.

Rate Exorbitant, Says Turner.

City Electrician Turner asserts that since 1911, the gross earnings of the Atlanta Gas Light company amounted to a grand total of $1,141,107.13.

He declared that if the city had taken up the fight when he urged it three years ago, the Atlanta Gas Light company would have been forced to cut its rate and the consumers of Atlanta would have saved $228,221 by having their gas bills cut down 20 per cent.

Members of council's committee, who have been investigating Atlanta's gas rate, announced Wednesday that the committee will invite President Preston Arkwright, of the Georgia Railway and Power company, and President George Brine, of the Atlanta Gas Light company, to attend a meeting of the committee Friday night.

The committee will present to the officials of both companies the data gathered from other cities, and will urge the company to make a voluntary reduction.

President Arkwright declared Wednesday night that he had nothing to say anent the probe of the gas rate by the committee and intimated that the company has no intention of making a voluntary reduction.

"The rumor that the company would make a reduction must have emanated from persons who don't know what they are talking about," President Arkwright said.

Up to Railroad Commission.

If the Atlanta Gas Light company refuses to make a reduction the question will be brought to the attention of the Georgia railroad commission.

City Electrician Turner says that he is going to advocate the establishment of a municipal gas plant in Atlanta. He says that the city of Richmond owns a plant which is now valued at $1,213,000. The Richmond plant has been in operation sixty-two years. It gives the people a rate of 90 cents.

"It is ridiculous to assume that the Atlanta Gas Light company is going to voluntarily reduce its rate," Turner says. "The city must force the company to deal squarely with the people, otherwise it will continue to squeeze dimes, dollars and quarters through its meters.

"Whenever a movement is started to force the company to do something for the benefit of the people the officials raise the cry that it is impossible on account of the tremendous investment it has in Atlanta.

"Yet the company is doing business with money belonging to their customers. Every $5 deposit made by a consumer for a gas or an electric light meter goes into the coffers of the corporation. The deposits are held until the service is discontinued. Several thousand $5 deposits have been in the keeping of the company ever since the company started its system, but not one penny interest is paid the consumer on the deposit, still the corporation uses it to do business with.

Entitled to 80-Cent Rate.

Turner says that it is clear from the data he has gathered on the gas situation in other cities that Atlanta is entitled to a rate of 80 cents per 1,000 feet.

He says further:

"After an investigation into the rates in more than a dozen cities of the same size of Atlanta, I found that any company operating in a city of more than 50,000 people can produce gas and deliver it for from 70 cents to 80 cents per 1,000. This gas can be made from either process—from regular coal gas retort, oil process, or from the new water gas process.

"This is shown conclusively by the report of the Richmond, Va., gas works, which makes gas by both processes. In Virginia we found that the net cost of manufacture is 27 cents on one process and 26 on the other.

"Of course, after the charge for manufacture, there is an overhead charge tacked on for piping, leakage, interest on investment, taxes, etc. However, figuring all these items up you cannot get the cost of manufacture and delivery above 66 cents per 1,000 cubic feet. This is for a first-class product of higher candlepower and also contains more heat units than the gas sold in Atlanta at the present time.

Good Profit Made.

"In 1912 the gross receipts at Richmond, Va., amounted to $895,221.19. Total expenses, including taxes, interest, insurance and other items amounted to $326,736.61, leaving a profit to the city of $568,484.58 on the year's business.

"This covers the manufacture and sale of 604,776,800 cubic feet manufactured and sold in the city of Richmond in 1912.

"Atlanta, in comparison to the figures shown by other cities, is paying an exorbitant rate. The local company can well afford to cut the rate 20 per cent and still make a profit of 15 per cent on the money actually invested. The local company returned for taxation in 1913 $1,827,000, which includes everything, gas plant, pipes in streets and all other property.

"According to the statement made by the Atlanta Gas Light company, the Georgia railroad commission it has made a profit of $1,141,107.13 during the past three years."

NO FIGHT BREWING ON ISSUE OF BONDS

man of the committee, is one of the members who believes that an issue of $2,500,000 for schools and other purposes will be easier to pass than will be an issue of $4,100,000. Alderman Nutting strongly advocated making a report to the general committee recommending $2,500,000 in bonds, but Alderman Jesse Armistead, chairman of the school committee, insisted, even after all the other departmental demands had reached a grand total of $2,600,000, that the issue for schools be not less than $1,500,000, and rather than submit a report bearing indications of friction or disagreement, the committee allowed Alderman Armistead's demand to prevail.

By granting the request of the education board the committee brought the total of the entire issue up to $4,190,000.

"We want to work out the problem of bonds in a spirit of perfect harmony and unity of purpose," Alderman Nutting says, "and for that reason the committee will make a report, which, it is believed, covers the situation rather thoroughly. Personally, I am inclined to the belief that we will have greater success with a bond issue of $3,500,000 than with an issue of $4,100,000, and my opinion is that the city will be able to carry out all its plans for school and other improvements with $3,500,000."

Submit Recommendations.

On Thursday morning at 11 o'clock the sub-committee will meet for the purpose of formulating its report and submitting its recommendations to the general committee.

Alderman Nutting has informed Alderman John Candler, chairman of the general committee, that the report will be ready Thursday morning, and has asked the general committee to meet at that time for the purpose of getting the whole business in shape for the general council to consider next Monday.

At makes no difference what the sub-committee recommends, it is certain that the general committee is going over every item in the general budget and will do some pruning on its own hook before sending report on to council. For instance, it is certain that the park department is going to ask for a million in addition to the $75,000 recommended by the sub-committee for a cyclorama building, and it is certain that the committee will not allow such a tremendous amount.

Farsighted members of council and the committee consider sewers, waterworks and the schools the paramount issues in the bond campaign, and have been careful to avoid the mistake of piling other things on the proposed bond issue ticket.

Careful Estimate Made.

The board of education has also been careful in its estimate of its needs, and is planning for only such new schools and improvements as are positively necessary to relieve the congestion in the schools and enlarge the system to such an extent as to make the system adequate and efficient for at least ten years.

As an illustration of the good intentions of the sub-committee and its desire to improve the entire system, members readily agreed to give the negro schools $140,000 of the bonds for new buildings and improvements.

If there is a fight brewing, those who are doing the brewing have not the temerity to make it known. A careful canvass of the general council has shown that every member is a unit, and Mayor Woodward has not indicated any hostility towards the bond movement.

Moseley Robbed of $250.

Charles H. Moseley, a negro farmer, living near Griffin, Ga., R. F. D. No. 1, reported to the police Wednesday that Tuesday night a pickpocket had "dipped" him for the amount of $251. Moseley stated that he had just arrived in the city and was walking from the Terminal station, on Mitchell street, when at South Pryor street he felt for his pocketbook and found it missing. He could not remember where the purse was stolen during his route from the Terminal station, but was positive that he had it on his arrival in the city.

BE sure to see the magnificent display of merchandise shown by the Merchants--Members of the Rotary Club--in the windows of the Healey Building.

The exhibition is well worth seeing.

Robertson-Foster.

The wedding of Miss Lenore Frances Robertson and Mr. George Samuel Foster was a lovely event of Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's mother in West End.

The ceremony was impressively read by Rev. Wallace Rogers in the presence of family connections and a few friends.

The house was beautifully decorated and softly lighted throughout with waxen tapers, in the living room, where the ceremony was performed, an altar was improvised with ferns and palms and interspersed with lighted candles in silver candlesticks, hairlooms in the bride's family.

Little Miss Ellanor Beach, a dainty figure in pink, was ring bearer and carried the ring in the heart of a rose. The bride entered with her mother and was met by the groom and his best man, Mr. J. M. Erskine. The bride wore her traveling suit of midnight blue broadcloth with small black velvet hat trimmed with French feathers.

She carried a bouquet of bride's roses and valley lilies. Her only ornament was a diamond lavalliere, the gift of the groom. The bride's mother was handsomely gowned in black satin charmeuse and chantilly lace. She wore a corsage bouquet of Parma violets. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Mary Harris Robertson and is a granddaughter of the late Col. Henry R. Harris, ex-congressman and assistant postmaster general during Cleveland's administration.

The groom is a popular member of the social clubs of the city and has friends throughout the south who will be interested in his marriage.

After a wedding trip through Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Foster will be at home to their friends on Peachtree Place.

Fifteen couples enjoyed the occasion.

Is There an "Emergency" Shelf in Your Pantry?

There ought to be. Mrs. Anna B. Scott, the famous expert on practical housekeeping, declares that every housewife should have a special shelf reserved for handy prepared food-products, all ready to "help out" in an emergency. Among the items she recommends for this shelf is a supply of condensed soups, including specially Pea Soup and Tomato Soup. "These may be creamed," she says, "and there is nothing nicer to start a meal than a cream soup of this sort." The Tomato is particularly well suited to go with a great variety of different menus. It is sure to make an appropriate and appetizing course with almost any meal you have planned. It is easily made ready in three minutes. Yet its delightful quality gives every effect of having been prepared with the utmost care and deliberation.

"FIRST AID TO FAMILY" COURSE WILL BE GIVEN

Constitution's Free Cooking School to Be Great Aid to Housewife.

Mrs. Florence Austin Chase, "one of the foremost authorities on home economics, a lecturer of national reputation and a woman of rare culture and attainments, has been secured with great good fortune, to conduct a cooking school, under the auspices of The Constitution. Her wide experience as lecturer, her careful preparation for the work while in college, and afterward, and her "business of home making" which she regards as a sacred trust, equip her admirably for this work. Although happily married, with a charming apartment in her native city, Chicago, she regards her lecture course on home economics as a mission to which she is divinely called, and is thus frequently tempted to leave her peaceful home for the more fateful of public service to which only the few are called. To lead women out of the wilderness of domestic despond is about as high an aim as one could entertain. It has been in this field that Mrs. Chase gathers such rich harvest-from the grains of information and inspiration she has planted.

There is no nonsense about Mrs. Chase. She hasn't time to indulge in fads or encourage idleness. She believes that "woman's place is in the home," and that a woman is a misfit if she is not properly trained for its responsibilities. Every normal girl, according to her belief, expects some day to be the joint head of a home of her own. The duty of parent and guardian should be to give her the necessary training to fit her for such responsibilities. Many heart-aches might be saved the bride who enters at once upon the untried field of housekeeping, with no actual preparation or knowledge of its intricacies. The problems of home-making are as perplexing to a woman as are the tangles of a business for a man, and she should have the training for her share of the work, as he has had for his. It is rank injustice for either to stand sponsor for the happiness of the other, unless tried by experience and not found wanting.

The girl who marries without knowing domestic science is usually the one to pay the penalty. Many a bride has wept herself to sleep because she made a failure of her first meal. She then realized how inadequate was her small store of knowledge for the duties that lay before her. She secretly upbraids her mother for neglecting that part of her education and reflects with scorn upon the needless hours given to some drawing room accomplishment, or petty social diversion.

How to successfully manage servants is equally a staggering problem to the girl, who at home is sheltered by her parents, and knows no household responsibilities.

It is important to know what to buy, and when to buy. These essentials all housekeepers must know, regardless of the numbers of servants, unless it is the exceptional rich who leave those responsibilities to a professional housekeeper and whose wealth permits an unlimited expenditure in such matters.

"First aids to the family" should be established in every community whether rural or city. The women of the city are going to have an exceptional opportunity to "qualify" in the most dignified and important profession in the world, that of domestic science. Mrs. Chase is going to be head physician and the clinic will be held daily. No entrance examinations will be required, the certificates of graduation will be well-filled note books kept throughout the lecture course. Admittance may be obtained by sufficient interest on the part of the pupils. Be at the lecture hall at the hour announced for the lecture. Seats are free to all and an invitation is extended by The Constitution to every woman within reach of Taft hall to be the honored guest of this paper. Come—city day—every day next week—and learn useful things about housekeeping, new ways to prepare familiar dishes, dishes that are strictly original with Mrs. Chase, new methods, new combinations.

BIG DEMAND IN ATLANTA FOR RED CROSS SEALS

Chairman George A. Simms, in charge of the distribution of Red Cross Christmas seals, announced Wednesday that there has developed a big demand for these little "bullets" in the war against tuberculosis. Two million of them have been distributed throughout the state and of this total Atlanta is planning to take at least 1,225,000 seals. Virtually every club woman in this city has already obtained an allotment of the stamps, the idea of the stamp sales having been unanimously indorsed by the Federation of Women's clubs, of Atlanta.

General headquarters for distribution of the stamps have been opened under the direction of Mr. Simms in the ground floor of the Gould building. Miss H. E. Clarke is in charge of the distribution there and she announces that she is ready to fill all orders, no matter how great the supplies needed.

Miss Genelvive Saunders has been put in charge of the committee of business women who plan to sell the stamps in Atlanta's shops and offices. She has aligned with her in the campaign many young women friends who have volunteered to carry out the work.

When the street sales of the stamps starts December 10 there will be several hundred attractive young women and public school children in evidence everywhere, so that there will not be much chance of any person being overlooked in the distribution. The stamps sell at a cent each and are used to stick on mail matter and on packages sent out during the Christmas season. The proceeds of the sales are given to the Anti-Tuberculosis society.

C. E. SNIPES ON TRIAL FOR DUEL ON STREET

Mason, Ga., December 2.—(Special.) Charles E. Snipes, charged with assault with intent to murder, is now on trial in the Bibb superior court, this being the final chapter in a sensational shooting affair on Third street, at Poplar street, about two years ago, when Snipes and J. S. Bolton, another white man, engaged in a pistol duel, a number of shots being exchanged, despite the fact that the street was crowded with shoppers. Several persons narrowly escaped being hit by stray bullets.

Bolton was so badly shot that it was feared for a time he would die, but after being in the hospital a couple of months he finally recovered. Snipes was also shot in the hand. The two men were said to have had a difficulty a few days previous to the shooting and both were carrying pistols, expecting further trouble.

JUDGE GEORGE JOHNSON ELECTED "THIRD TIME"

Judge George E. Johnson, Atlanta police recorder, was elected for the "third time" Wednesday afternoon, to the position of recorder of the police court of Atlanta.

Judge Johnson first was elected over John Y. Smith in the run over race of the primary. Later, he was elected by city council to fill the unexpired term of Judge Nash Broyles, resigned, until a recorder could be elected by the people to fill the unexpired office of Judge Broyles. At the general election Wednesday he was elected by the people, both for the unexpired term, and for the regular term.

He will now serve as recorder for four years and seven months, the seven months being for the unexpired term.

THE WINDOW LOOK IN

An 1894 Nickel

Got one in your pocket? Look at it. Twenty years of circulation have worn it smooth.

When that nickel was new, it was worth one street-car ride in Atlanta.

Now that it's worn, it still is worth here in Atlanta one street-car ride.

Everything's gone up—except your street-car ride.

That's cheaper—yes, cheaper!—than it was when your 1894 nickel was coined. Two decades have brought you better and faster and more comfortable cars, greater transfer privileges, miles and miles of new track lines that didn't exist then. Your 1894 nickel pays your fare in 1914 from College Park to Decatur, or from Decatur to Bolton, or from Bolton to Buckhead, or from Buckhead to East Lake, or from East Lake to Druid Hills, or from Druid Hills to Hapeville, or between a score other extremities of the Atlanta system.

You couldn't be served adequately today by Atlanta's street-car equipment of "twenty" or even ten years ago. You'd laugh at the man who tries to convince you today's equipment will suffice ten years from now.

We've got to keep growing. That's the foundation of one clause of good service. Growth calls for new investment. That must be assured fair return. That's impossible without your good will. To win your good will and keep it, we must give good service. The thing's a cycle.

Would we be so foolish as to break it?

HOW I DARKENED MY GRAY HAIR

Lady Gives Simple Home Recipe That She Used to Darken Her Gray Hair.

For years I tried to restore my gray hair to its natural color with the prepared dyes and stains, but none of them gave satisfaction and they were all expensive. I finally ran onto a simple recipe which I mixed at home that gives wonderful results. I gave the recipe, which is as follows, to a number of my friends, and they are all delighted with it. To 7 oz. of water add a small box of Barbo Compound, 1 oz. of bay rum and 1-4 oz. of glycerine. Use every other day until the hair becomes the required shade, then every two weeks. It will not only darken the gray hair, but removes dandruff and, scalp humors, and acts as a tonic to the hair. It is not sticky or greasy, does not rub off and does not color the scalp. You can prepare it at home at very little expense.

THE CONSTITUTION is on sale in New York city 2 p. m. on the day after issue. It can be had at Holaling's Newsstands, Broadway and Forty-second street (Times building corner), Thirty-eighth street and Broadway and Twenty-ninth street and Broadway.

The Constitution is not responsible for advance payments to out-of-town local carriers, dealers or agents.

RECORDING PROGRESS.

Atlanta's school system and her other tattered municipal equipment are one step nearer rehabilitation.

That's the meaning of the action of the subcommittee of the bond issue committee of council in arranging a tentative schedule of the items to be included in the bond issue.

The schools, as is proper, loom largest.

Provision is made for relief of the high school congestion and for the perils that menace the grammar school division.

These arrangements are, of course, provisional, and subject to approval of the whole committee—then council and then the people.

The thing that counts is that an official beginning has been made. In turn, that signifies that official Atlanta has officially waked up. That is one of the healthiest signs The Constitution has recently seen registered.

Every bond issue means, necessarily, a game of battledore and shuttlecock between the departments in need of assistance, and the city officials whose sworn duty it is to trim the estimates of aspiring department heads.

In this scramble the battle for the schools must be kept well to the front. It must be remembered that it is about the schools that the public primarily was interested and made awake, and that public sentiment demands that the evils be corrected that, unremedied, threaten the system with disaster next September.

The problem beyond all is a community problem.

Next to health, education involves the welfare of the city, the material condition of every man, woman and child in Atlanta, the very future of the city.

Atlanta's schools need standardization. That is admitted.

The thing now is to achieve that standardization without the interference of petty personal politics.

Let every councilman and every citizen view the bond issue as though its success meant the protection of his own family. If that intimate viewpoint is taken, and it is the correct one, The Constitution has no fear of the result.

THE RURAL CREDIT LINK.

The encouraging news comes from Washington that United States Senator Fletcher, of Florida, has personally commited himself to securing action at the forthcoming session of congress upon the matter of rural credits. For several years the senator has made rural credits a personal study, almost a hobby. He headed the commission that went to Europe to study the systems in vogue there, and he has done splendid work in this country, in connection with the Southern Commercial congress and other bodies.

Rural credits is the one link needed to make the country's new system of currency impregnable. The Glass-Owen law, as amended, has emancipated the credits of the cities, and given ordinary commerce a free hand, or at least as free a hand as is compatible with safe management. It has not done nearly so much for the farmers. That omission must be remedied.

Since the founding of our government the currency system has presented the anomaly of providing free access to credit to all business factors save one of the most important—the farmer. The man who fed and clothed the nation, who produced the wealth upon which all or most of its prosperity was founded was cramped in his ambitions, forced to pay exorbitant price for money because of antiquated banking laws.

The paradox was stronger when we remember that the farmer had the best security of all to offer—the land, that is the source of all wealth, that cannot escape, that is there tomorrow as it is today. It is true that in the earlier eras this failure to make land collateral was excusable because of the epidemic of wildcat speculations that swept the country. Of later years there has been no such reason. Land now has reached a stable value in practically all parts of the country, and the wildcat operator, once the scourge of the nation, is everywhere anathema.

Under these conditions the time is come to release the farmer from a bondage that works to the injury of the whole country. Give the farmer room and facilities with which to expand, and every other source of prosperity in America will expand and grow great with him.

PRACTICAL CHURCH HELP.

It is indeed the spirit of the Christian religion that characterizes the resolutions of the Baptist ministers of Atlanta, published elsewhere on this page.

Representing all the churches in this district, the pastors take the view that the church should extend practical as well as spiritual aid; that its members, its influence, its very temple should be consecrated to the alleviation of human need and human emergency.

This follows closely the creed of the Galilean. Such an attitude is bound to draw men toward the church and broaden their interpretation of its functions.

A DANGEROUS JUNGLE.

The Constitution publishes today a communication from L. A. Niven, editor of the local Orange Judd farming publication, that ought to inspire a good deal of honest heart-searching among both the business men and the farmers of all the cotton belt states. His card grows out of the discussion that has been raging in The Constitution as to the lack of markets for home farm products, and the relative intrinsic values of peavine and timothy hay.

It will be remembered that commenting upon the contribution of Mrs. Nellie Peters Black, several leading commission merchants took the position that peavine hay, grown extensively in Georgia, should not bring as high a market price as timothy, and that the Georgia farmer seemed to lack in knowledge as to how to present his product.

Mr. Niven takes issue with these gentlemen. He says that, balancing up the protein content and the carbohydrates in the two hays, peavine will be found an article far superior to timothy. He says that it should yield at least as good a price.

As to these technical points, The Constitution calls for judgment. But it is by no means uncertain upon the focal contention that Mr. Niven has what is needed chiefly between the man who sells in the city and the man who produces in the country is cooperation. He breaks no bones about sounding the warning that unless an understanding is effected before the coming cotton crop is planted, or the diversified crops of next year brought forward for market, there is going to be heavy loss for all concerned. For the farmer will have trouble in realizing on the diversified crops he produced in place of cotton and the business man will be injured by the slowing up that always comes when the farmer is in a financial impasse.

All this may be unpalatable, but it is the naked, obvious truth. The south needs, as it has not needed since reconstruction, an understanding, an entente cordiale between its producers, its middlemen and consumers—a treaty of new trade relations between the country and the city. As it is now, and confessedly, folk seem to move around in a fog. One man says that markets are plentiful for country products. Another challenges him. Nobody knows, or seems to know, and we need this jungle cleared up and cleared up quickly.

Heaven knows there are factors enough interested in this business to assure some sort of common basis. The farmer's very life depends upon finding a market for his products, and he cannot pitch his crop until the certainty of finding a market for food crops is established. The business man, and his credit, and the business he has long built up, hang upon it. The transportation companies are vitally concerned. The federal and state departments of agriculture, the agricultural colleges ought to find a solution a part of their vocation. Surely, with these interlocking and indispensable factors, some answer should be found to the question, some way out of the jungle.

Dan Hughes, assistant state commissioner of agriculture, had one key to the door when he said we must have a central bureau of markets. What have become of the other factors militant? What say the city and county and state chambers of commerce, the farmers' organizations and the railroads? Is it not imperative to find an answer to this riddle of markets before many more weeks have elapsed?

In Christmas Street.

Here's a new "Christmas Street" from the prolific pen of the Bentztown Bard:

"The sound of little voices,
The ring of little feet—
And all the joys of the world
Are now in Christmas street.
And all the faces in them
Are glad faces, dear,
Lit with the ambient glory of
The holy Christmas cheer.
Away with gray shadows,
While now in gladness ring
The laughter of the children,
The message of the King."

Evidently the poet, Tennyson J. Daft, has no time to lose. He explains in rhyme:

Peavine Hay Superior To Timothy; Need Is For More Co-operation

Editor Constitution: I was very much interested in the article entitled, "Practically No Market Here for Peavine Hay, Dats and Hay Declare Leading Merchants," in the December 1 issue of The Constitution.

I was rather surprised at some of the statements made in this article. For instance, Mr. A. P. Morgan, of the A. P. Morgan Grain company, is quoted as saying that "Peavine hay usually is worth no more than $14 or $15 a ton, the very best qualities, cured carefully, selling sometimes more than $18 or $20 a ton." He further says that "Georgia farmers want the same price as is paid for timothy hay, and it is $30 to $35."

Now, my contention in this matter is that the Georgia farmer has a perfect right to expect as much for peavine hay as is given here for timothy hay, provided, of course, the cowpea hay is high class in every respect. Timothy hay is selling in Atlanta today for $25 a ton wholesale. If timothy is worth this much, I contend that cowpea hay is worth at least that much, and to be perfectly fair about it, we are bound to admit that it is worth more. In food content timothy is one of the poorest hays there is made, and we might just as well admit it as fact. Yet we keep buying this timothy in preference to our own home grown products, just because we have gotten in the habit of buying the western product. Now, protein is the most valuable part of any feed, and the analysis shows that timothy hay contains only 2.5 per cent protein and cowpea hay contains 9.3; then we see that, based on the protein content, the cowpea hay is worth more than three times as much as the timothy. Of course, this is figuring it only on the basis of the protein content. No one claims that cowpea hay is worth three times as much as timothy for feeding purposes, because timothy contains a little larger per cent of carbohydrates than does the cowpea hay and equally as much fat and dry matter. However, those who have had experience in feeding both the timothy and cowpea hay will, I am sure, say that cowpea hay is far better than timothy, provided, of course, the cowpea hay is as good quality as the timothy.

I recognize the fact that our Georgia farmers can't force the wholesale dealers to buy their hay; I am sure that none of them would wish to do such a thing, even though they could. Every time this question comes up the wholesale men hurl charges at the farmers that they are not up to snuff and they don't put it up right, etc. Then, when the farmer has his hay, he will declare that the wholesale men want it for so much

VALUE OF ADVERTISING IN HEALTH CAMPAIGNS

Moree Says Health Advocates Must Recognize Newspapers Have Space to Sell.

Jacksonville, Fla., December 2.—The value of publicity in campaigns for the promotion of the public health was emphasized here tonight by Edward A. Moree, of New York, addressing the forty-second annual convention of the American Public Health association. Newspaper advertising was especially commended.

"I have no sympathy with the advertising quack and I believe—as a former newspaperman—that a properly conceived public policy would exclude advertising of harmful patent medicines," said Mr. Moree, who is engaged in public health work. "But I also believe our criticisms would come with better grace and more force if we recognized that newspapers had space to sell and that advertising space was their chief source of income."

The speaker did not advocate personal advertising by physicians, but he believed it to be both necessary and desirable in health campaigns of general interest.

The secretary's report showed the association to have a membership of approximately 1,350, the United States, Canada, Mexico and Cuba being represented in the list. During the past year 351 new members were added.

AMERICAN WOMEN FIGHT OVER TITLE OF PRINCESS

London, December 2.—The long standing dispute of two American women, Lida Eleanor Fitzgerald and Josephine Moffitt, as to which was entitled to style herself Princess Victor of Thurn and Taxis, was settled in the chancery court today in favor of Mrs. Fitzgerald.

The court allowed Mrs. Fitzgerald $500 damages, gave her cost of the trial and granted her an injunction against Miss Moffitt. The prince is now serving in the Austrian army.

Prince Victor of Thurn and Taxis, a member of a well-known Hungarian family, came to the United States in 1906 and in New York contracted a matrimonial alliance with an American actress named Josephine Moffitt, who came originally from Jacksonville, Fla. The prince later left Miss Moffitt and in 1911 he was married to Mrs. Fitzgerald, former wife of General Gerald Fitzgerald, at Uniontown, Pa.

The difficulties of the prince and the women who claimed the right to use his title have been up from time to time in the courts of New York, Paris and London.

SUFFERING COMES IN TRAGEDY'S WAKE

which the dead father had a policy, will be spent for medical needs, which will require practically every bit of it.

There are six boys and two girls. The youngest girl is 7 years; the other, the cripple, 20; the youngest boy is 8 years, and the ages of the others are 9, 12, 14, 16 and 18. The 18-year-old is the sole support.

It will be a bitter Christmas this year, bitterer than ever before.

It was only last Saturday night that this siege of extra bitterness was added to their unhappy lot. The mother and youngest girl were returning from positions they had got the previous day. It was 11 o'clock at night, and a negro snatchthief tried to rob them of the meager amount of money they were bringing home.

They fought and fought hard, but the negro threw them to the ground and fled. But they kept on fighting for fortunes and screamed for help. The father, paralyzed though he was, came in answer with a pistol. He tracked the negro and was fired upon. He returned the fire and three bullets hit him.

He fought desperately against death, but it came two days later in Grady hospital.

Now, the mother and daughter can work no longer. Both are needed at home to care for the hungry mouths of little ones. They are fighting against odds that can't be described. Really, they can't be imagined in their full misery.

The Federation of Trades will do all in their power to aid.

Who, besides its members, will help?

BELGIAN PICTURES SEEN BY FARMERS OF BROOKS COUNTY

A committee representing farmers and others interested in bringing Belgian refugees to settle on Georgia farms came up Wednesday from Brooks county to have a look at the Belgians as portrayed on the motion picture screen by Edwin F. Weigle, staff photographer for The Chicago Tribune. The pictures are on show this week at the Grand, where they have attracted audiences estimated to have been about 12,000 persons since the show opened on Monday last.

The committee wanted to see just what a Belgian refugee looked like and it figured it could do no better than to see Weigle's pictures, which were taken by direction of the Belgian government through an arrangement by which the Belgian Red Cross society is to receive one-half of the film proceeds in this country.

MAYOR WOODWARD BEATS KRIESBERG IN CITY ELECTION

In spite of the fact that a very light vote was polled in the city Wednesday, Mayor James G. Woodward, the nominee of the white primary for re-election as mayor, was elected over Samuel Kriesberg, socialist candidate.

There was no opposition to any of the other candidates for ministerial offices or to the general council.

The election was quiet, and the interest that was taken in it was stirred up by friends of the mayor.

The total vote cast will not be known until Thursday morning, when the election managers make their returns.

Southern Express Company Issues "General Reminder" On Handling Xmas Trade

Believing that the best service can be secured through its employees exerting every effort to assist the patrons of the Southern Express company, Second Vice President E. M. Williams, in charge of traffic, has issued to the 4,000 agents of the Southern Express company a "general reminder" on the holiday business for 1914, in which he urges upon the thousands of employees of the company the importance of making the Christmas shipping season a success through their personal efforts.

One of these "reminders" has been received by W. T. Elder, local agent for the Southern Express company in this city, who has posted it in a conspicuous place in the receiving office of the company. There it will serve as a reminder to the employees, and at the same time will show the patrons the true spirit of a company, as expressed by an official, with reference to handling the great rush of business incident to the Christmas season.

Dealing with this subject Mr. Williams writes:

"This is a season which brings to us in large numbers people who do not use express service at any other period of the year. It is a golden opportunity to make friends. A desire to please, a disposition to serve and courtesy to handle all complaints will make for your individual success, and the successful conduct of the holiday business.

"Serve the public' has been adopted as our slogan, and we want to give our regular patrons, and those who learn to use it this season to personal commissions in the delivery of their holiday offerings, the best service that the company can render.

"Much of the holiday traffic is handled under stress, the larger volume confined to a comparatively few days, but bear in mind that we should never be too busy to be polite, to assist patrons to use our service, and handle carefully the matter entrusted to us."

Of special importance is the large placard conspicuously posted in the office of the company with reference to the early shipment of Christmas presents.

In order to relieve the congestion of traffic always in evidence during Christmas week the company is urging early Christmas shipments, and to obviate the possibility of a premature opening of these packages intended for Christmas gifts, is furnishing red labels to be attached to each shipment with the wording in bold letters: "Do not open until Christmas."

It is believed that these two announcements will do much to facilitate the prompt and proper handling of Christmas packages.

CAPITAL LODGE MAKES WARE NOBLE GRAND

At a large and enthusiastic meeting of Capitol lodge, I. O. O. F., No. 60, held in their lodgeroom, corner Alabama and Broad streets, last night, officers for the year 1915 were elected. This is one of the largest and most progressive lodges of Odd Fellows in the state, having a membership of 549. Many short speeches of felicitation were made and a most enjoyable evening was spent by those in attendance. Capitol lodge has long enjoyed the reputation of being the banner lodge of the state and strong efforts are being made the ensuing year to retain this title.

The officers-elect for 1915 are as follows: J. G. Wyatt, noble grand; J. E. Belcher, vice grand; Thomas Evans, financial secretary; C. B. Penn, recording secretary; H. M. Patterson, treasurer; J. E. Wyatt, three-year trustee; W. L. Haygood, relief committeeman.

FEDERAL JURY TO PASS ON CASE OF DAVID LAMAR

New York, December 2.—The case of David Lamar, charged with having violated Representative A. Mitchell Palmer, of Pennsylvania, with intent to defraud J. P. Morgan & Co., and the United States Steel Corporation, will go to a federal grand jury here tomorrow. After Lamar's counsel had announced today they would interpose no defense, Henry E. Davis, chief counsel for Lamar, summed up and Judge Dickinson announced the jury would be charged tomorrow after the prosecution had made its final address.

The government based its case almost entirely on the testimony of Lewis Cass Ledyard regarding telephonic conversations which he held in February, 1913, with a man who represented himself as Congressman Palmer, but who, it is charged, was the defendant.

"While we admit that Lamar represented himself as a congressman he ordered Ledyard to assure himself of a hearing; that Lamar's conversations with Ledyard had no reference to congressional business, thus putting the case outside the pale of the statute; and that these conversations were not as any representative member of the legislative body," declared Mr. Davis, under the same conditions. He claimed no testimony had been presented which proved that Lamar had attempted to defraud anyone.

RIGID POLICE PROBE URGED BY CALLAWAY

its back and he recognized Mr. Callaway."

Immediately following the return of the coroner's verdict, Mr. Carhart was freed from the imprisonment at police headquarters, where he had been held since the police arrived on the scene of the homicide.

Mr. Carhart is ex-president of the Carhart Shoe and Manufacturing company, and is widely known in both the business and social worlds. He was the first witness.

Carhart Tells Story.

"Mrs. Carhart and I had gone into our apartments about 10 minutes after 1 o'clock, after we had carried Mrs. Robert Butters, Graham Phelan and Carl Fort to their homes on the Capitol ing. She had undressed in my bedroom, and had started into the bathroom when she cried out that there was a burglar in the place.

"I rushed into the hallway where I met Callaway. She called for me to get my pistol. I went to the bureau and got my revolver, going back into the hall and pushing Mrs. Carhart into the safety of my bedroom. As I started into the room of Louis, my son, I saw a figure crouching in the darkness. I do not remember whether I fired here or not. The man then ran back of the sleeping porch and I followed to the door.

"I saw him crouching on the outside of the banisters, as though to jump to the ground. Something gleamed in his hand. I thought at the time that it was a pistol. I since found that it was a heavy ring on his finger that glistened in the moonlight. I raised my pistol and fired. His body dropped from the porch. I don't recall whether I fired two shots or one. I was so excited at the time."

Had Known Callaway Well.

In regard to his acquaintance with Callaway, he testified that he had known him intimately for fifteen years and that the dead man had often been a visitor at the Carhart home. He said that they had been together for a short time previous to the tragedy at a gathering at the Capital City club. "Mr. Callaway stooped at our table," he testified, "and had a drink. I did not observe that he was drinking heavily. He left us within a few minutes after he had joined us, and that was the last I saw of him until the shooting."

Mr. Carhart could give no reasons why Mr. Callaway should be in his apartments. He declared that the slain clubman and Louis Carhart were on intimate terms, but did not say that it was likely Mr. Callaway had come into the place looking for the youth.

The body of Mr. Callaway will lie in the Patterson chapel until 9 o'clock this morning, when it will be carried to LaGrange, Ga., his birthplace, for funeral and interment this afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Tribute of Friends.

Jim Callaway had lived at the Bell House for some seven or eight years, and his untimely death was the source of great sorrow among the boys, with whom he was extremely popular. Not since the death of Mrs. Emma Bell, who, for years, conducted this well-known establishment, has there been such genuine grief expressed.

Jim Callaway was the life and spirit of any party with which he was thrown. In the evenings, on the broad front porch of the Bell House, he was always the center of an interested group. Cultured, refined, exceptionally well read, he was an interesting, even a brilliant, conversationalist. Add to this a warmth of heart and it is not difficult to account for his wide popularity.

Henry D. Kennedy, cashier of the Fulton National bank and chairman of the Bell House committee, was one of Mr. Callaway's warmest friends. In speaking of him last night, he said:

"I never knew a finer or more lovable character that Jim Callaway. He was one of the best liked men at the Bell House. I never knew a man to say an unkind word of him. I never knew him to do an unkind deed, or to harbor an ungenerous thought. He was beloved by all boys and his death has caused a sorrow which I cannot find words to express."

Some thirty-five or forty members of the Bell House colony will attend the funeral this morning at LaGrange.

Georgia Pig Clubs Make Fine Exhibit at Capitol

Much interest is being shown in the Pig Club exhibit at the state capitol. Its most recent results have been obtained by many Georgia boys and girls.

MISS MAUDE PHILLIPS,

Of Quitman, Ga., champion Pig club girl of Georgia, showing the hog which won her the championship. The hog is a pure bred Berkshire, and it cost Miss Philips just three cents per pound to produce it. The picture is made from one of the photographs forming a part of the Pig club exhibit at the Corn Show at the capitol, this exhibit being under the direction of James E. Downing, of Athens, Ga., who is in charge of the Pig club work in Georgia.

One of the most interesting exhibits at the corn show at the capitol is that of the Pig clubs of Georgia, under the direction of James E. Downing, of Athens, Ga.

The exhibit consists of a stand of Georgia-grown hams and sides of bacon, together with pictures of some of the most successful members of the Georgia Pig clubs.

The exhibit is not remarkable for its size, but for the new farm industry which it seems to protend in Georgia.

The records of this exhibit show that pork can be successfully raised in Georgia at a production cost of 3 cents per pound. This fact in the face of the other fact that Georgia annually buys thousands of dollars worth of pork from the middle west at a figure that substantially boosts the cost of living is a revelation which is within itself well worth the consideration not only of farmers, but of everybody who eats.

The Pig club exhibit is all day long the center of much interest. Mr. Downing is there all the time and delivers lectures upon the work of the club to small groups every few minutes.

He stated Wednesday that he is much gratified at the work the clubs have done so far, but that, owing to the brief life of the clubs to date, this is hardly as much as the foundation work.

Mr. Downing said that with the economy with which good pork can be produced in Georgia he sees no reason in the world why Georgia should not supply her own pork and have plenty to spare for other parts of the world which are not in position to produce meat so cheaply.

Among the members of the Pig club there is a great deal of rivalry.

Another interesting picture on exhibit at the Pig club exhibit is that of Wars Creel, aged 11 years, of Valdosta, Ga., who has raised a 172-pound pig at a total cost of $1.50. The pig is also shown in the picture and is a fine specimen of pure-bred Duroc-Jersey.

Sam Caspoagna Dies As Result of Attack By Footpads Monday

Sam Caspoagna, of 129 West Cain street, the Italian who was brutally sand-bagged by footpads Monday night, corner Victoria avenue and Cain street, as the result of his wounds died at the Grady hospital Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Ernest Wills, a negro servant of Caspoagna, who lives in the rear of 44 Alexander street, is under arrest at police headquarters as a suspect in the case. He was arrested by Detectives Arrowood and Welchel.

Caspoagna never regained consciousness during the entire two days he remained at the Grady hospital, where he was carried by Policemen Bishop, Hazlett and Gallo.

C. Peppino, a cousin of Caspoagna, told the police officers Wednesday that he believed the dead man had been attacked and robbed by some one who knew that Caspoagna had $200 on his person, with which he intended to return to Italy.

The physicians stated that death was the result of two fractures of the skull.

Fifth Ward Club Takes "Some Drastic Action" At a Meeting Tonight

Because of the failure of the school board to restore fifteen children now attending one of the classes at the Ashby street school to the English avenue school, the Fifth Ward Improvement club has called a meeting for tonight for the purpose of taking "some drastic action."

Secretary Burton stated last night that the club had invited members of the board of education to be present in order that the members can talk over the situation with them.

There are a number of other important matters to be discussed. They relate to street, park, sewer and electric light improvements in the ward.

President Bowden urges all members of the club to be present.

STREET CARS TO STOP FOR CARNIVAL PARADE

Announcement is made by the Georgia Railway and Power company that the city street car service will be subject to interruption during the hours of the Corn club and carnival parade this afternoon. Cars on all routes traversing the streets in the line of march will stop between 2:30 and 4 o'clock so long as is necessary to let the parade pass.

"This will inconvenience some people wishing to cross town during that period," says the company's announcement, "but it will help greatly the effectiveness of the parade, in which all are interested; and we believe our patrons will join us in making the concession."

No award of the contract for the structure was made on Wednesday.

Dr. Connally stated that his building will be erected as originally planned as soon as the award of the contract has been made.

CALL OFFICER WATSON GETS LANFORD'S "GOAT"

Call Officer Tom Watson, of the Atlanta police force, Wednesday afternoon "got the goat" of Chief of Detectives Newport Lanford.

Chief Lanford returned from his home after luncheon with a small angora hitched to the rear end of his buggy, and stated that he wanted the goat killed and served with pepper hash and brown gravy.

Officer Watson immediately offered the services of chief if for his goat, which was accepted.

Watson's fellow officers are now asking him: "Tom, got the chief's goat, Tom, what yer going do with it?"

VISITING CARD LEFT BY POLITE BURGLAR

Some polite burglar left a visiting card at the residence of H. O. Hughes, at 148 Crew street, Tuesday afternoon, when the house was ransacked, and several valuable articles stolen during the absence of the family.

Mr. Hughes reported the affair to the police Wednesday afternoon and gave the police a visiting card, which was left on a table in the front hall of his home. The card had the name "Mr. Arthur H. DeLong," engraved on it.

A gold watch, two gold rings, five cents and a watch fob were taken from the house.

The only clue to the burglar is the visiting card.

LARGE WATERY PIMPLES ON FACE

Began to Itch. Rubbing Made Them Worse. Festered and Came to Head. Could Not Rest. Used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. Trouble Gone.

Terry, Miss.—"When I first noticed the trouble it was fine pimples which began to itch on my entire person. In my face seemed to be more affected than other parts. I would rub them which would make them worse. Then I began to scratch and this caused them to become large and form watery pimples. They festered and came to a head, then they burst and became sores. On account of the itching at night I could not rest well.

"After using skin lotions they would heal a little, then break out again. After about a month my sister told me about Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I used water as warm as I could bear and made a lather with Cuticura Soap, bathed them well and applied the Cuticura Ointment which gave relief at once. I kept on using them and in a month's time the sores were entirely gone. Cuticura Soap and Ointment had cured me." (Signed) Mrs. Ella A. Hunter, Jan. 31, 1914.

CARLISLE INDIANS BEAT ALABAMA

SPORTS—CONDUCTED BY DICK JEMISON.

ALABAMA BEATEN BY THE INDIANS

Carlisle Eleven Smashed Its Way to 20-to-3 Victory Over Lighter Opponents. Straight Football Used.

Birmingham, Ala., December 2.—Carlisle's superior weight proved too much for the University of Alabama football eleven this afternoon and the Indians smashed their way to a 20 to 3 victory.

Carlisle used straight football with varied and delayed passes with deadly effectiveness, but the attempts of the Indians at forward passes netted but few gains. Alabama's open play was more effective, but inability to cope with the Indians' defense made consistent gaining impossible.

Carlisle scored one touchdown in each of the first three quarters. Alabama's lone score came in the last quarter, when Vandergraff sent the ball through the goal posts for a field goal from the 30-yard line.

The line-up:

CARLISLE.	Position.	ALABAMA
Wellette	L. E.	Love
Welmes	L. T.	Vandergraff
Hutch	L. G.	Jones
Winnes Bick	C.	Barnett
Hawkeye	R. G.	Hicks
Morrell	R. T.	Bush
Bird	R. E.	Morton
H. Broker	Q. B.	G. Harris (Johnson)
Wofford	L. H.	Hardy (Harsh)
Pratt (Johnson	R. H.	Bates
F. Broker	F. B.	Long (Neville)

Substitutions: Carlisle, White for Pratt, Wofford for Johnson. Alabama, Cargyle for Morton; Muller for Barnett; Neville for Long; Gibbons for Jones.

Summary—Score by quarters:

Carlisle	7	6	7	0—20
Alabama	0	0	3	0—3

Touchdown, Pratt 2, Johnson. Goals from touchdown, White, Johnson. Goals from placement, Vandegraff. Referee, Streit, Auburn. Umpire, Townsman, V. P. I. Time of quarters, 15 minutes.

Carlisle Arrives Today For Game With Plainsmen

The Carlisle Indians will arrive here this morning, fresh from victory over the University of Alabama eleven, whom they defeated on Rickwood field in Birmingham on Wednesday by the score of 20 to 3.

The Indians are in fine fettle and came out of the game with the "Thin Red Line" in splendid shape.

This afternoon they will go out to Grant field and practice, and will work out again on Friday afternoon.

The Auburn eleven will arrive in Atlanta Friday and will divide the time with the Indians in practice on the field where the contest will be staged.

The showing of the Indians against Alabama makes them rule as even money favorites in the game against the Auburn eleven, the reports of the game state that the Indians reserved their resources in the game with Alabama, using only straight football.

Against Auburn the Indians will meet a more formidable opponent and they will open up with everything they have in stock. The Indians are reputed past masters of the open game and local fans are in for something spectacular Saturday.

The game will also mark the last game that Pop Warner, the veteran coach, will handle as coach of the Indians, as he is said to be slated for the berth at the University of Pittsburg next season.

The Indians' visit to Atlanta with Warner as their coach reminds old-time football fans of the time that he handled the athletic destinies of the University of Georgia.

Auburn will play her very best in this game. She is smarting under the poor showing she made on Thanksgiving, which caused her to be voted out of the championship of Georgia for the cup emblematic of same.

The Auburnites will, therefore, put up the fiercest game that they have in their kit, to show the public of the south and Atlanta in particular that they still have the same formidable eleven.

The officials of the game will be Dan McGugin, coaching Vanderbilt, umpire; Dick Jemison, head linesman.

Governor Slaton and his staff will be the guests of the two elevens. There will be many other prominent Atlantans and Georgians in the big audience that is sure to turn out for the game.

EDDIE PLANK SIGNS CONTRACT WITH FEDERALS

Gettysburg, Pa., December 2.—Eddie Plank, of the Philadelphia Athletics, today signed a Federal league contract. Harry Goldman, treasurer of the Baltimore club, obtained the pitcher's signature to a general contract, that it was not made known to which club Plank would be assigned. It is believed Plank will pitch either for St. Louis or Chicago.

Plank tonight admitted he signed the contract, but would not divulge the terms of the agreement.

Philadelphia, December 2.—"I wish him the best of luck," said Connie Mack tonight when told that Eddie Plank had signed a Federal league contract.

"Are you sorry to see him go?" Mack was asked.

"Oh no," he replied, "I was through with him. He was after the money, and was willing to go to the Federals."

"He was a wonderful pitcher," Mack said, speaking of Plank's thirteen years' service with the Athletics, "and he is a good one yet."

Plank's jump to the Federals was not unexpected here. Mack startled the baseball world shortly after the world's series by announcing that he asked waivers on Plank, Bender and Coombs, all the American league clubs did not waive on Plank and Bender and agents of several urged Plank to remain in the American league.

GOLF AT PINEHURST.

Hunter and Becker Turn in the Lowest Scores.

Pinehurst, N. C., December 2.—The eleventh annual autumn golf tournament here began today with fifty contrants in the qualifying round. Robert Hunter, of Connecticut, and C. L. BASKETBALL GAME.

Local Season Opens at A. A. C. Saturday Night.

The 1914-15 basketball season locally will be officially ushered in Saturday night, the Atlanta Athletic club and the juniors of the Chattanooga Tigers being the opponents in the opening fray.

Both teams have been practicing hard in anticipation of a hard season, and are in the pink of condition. The Tigers have a stronger team than the one that represented them last season, and are sure to give the local boys a hard run for the long end of the score.

Coach Joe Bean has had his squad practicing hard for over a month, and has them in good shape. His material this season, was probably the best he has ever had, and had over twenty men to select a first string team from. The same five men that played such good ball last season are again in the line-up, and give promise of playing a good game throughout the year.

Some good basketball will be witnessed by the local followers of this sport this year, as the club has arranged games with strong teams throughout the south.

The game Saturday night will commence at 8:15, and a dance will follow.

The line-up that the two teams will use is as follows:

ATLANTA.	Positions.	CHATA.
Smith	L. F.	Norman
Forbes	R. F.	McCullum
Dihard	C.	Brockhaus
Weaver	L. G.	Ohls
Ed Carter	R. G.	G. Gamble

BOUTS AT MARIETTA.

Two Good Fights for Friday Night's Card.

Two good fights will be staged Friday night at the auditorium in Marietta, Ga., Eddie Woodward meeting Dick Pound, and Roby Tying up with Jack Thomas.

The first named bout should be a corker, as Woodward is lightweight champion of the navy, while Pound, of Smyrna, Ga., is one of the best in this section.

B. Wood is of Atlanta, while J. Thomas hails from Charleston, where he is known as the fighting cyclone.

The first fight will begin promptly at 8 o'clock, and admission will be 50 cents to any part of the house.

HENDERSON IS ELECTED BY RED AND BLACK TEAM

Big Center Named Captain of Georgia Eleven—Letters Awarded.

Athens, Ga., December 2.—(Special.) Big John Henderson, center, known as "Tiny," was tonight elected captain of the Georgia football team for the next year at an affair given the team by the captain and coach. Captain Paddock was presented a handsome fob and Coach Cunning a gold chain by the team.

The "G" was awarded to the members of the team.

Those to get the coveted letter are Captain Paddock, John Henderson, Charlie Thompson, J. B. Conyers, Ed Hitchcock, Bill Cleland, Albert Peacock, Tom Thrash, McConnell, Garmony, Billie Powell and Coleman. Those who have already won letters, but not this season, are York, Logan, Dorsey and Broyles.

To earn a letter this year it was necessary to play in every game of the season or in the Tech and Auburn games.

Just before the Tech games the players pledged themselves not to wear the letters unless that game was won. This was done last year and the Red and Black team was victorious, but this year they were not so successful and hence will not wear the "G's" won this fall until after the Tech game next year, and not even then unless the Jackets are defeated. The Georgia boys are going to live up to their pledge.

Charlie Thompson, of Atlanta, was elected alternate captain of the team for next year.

WORLD'S CHAMPS TO HAVE NEW STADIUM

YOUNG SHUGRUE PROVES TOO STRONG FOR WELSH

Lightweight Champion Is Outfought and Outboxed in 8 of 10 Rounds.

New York, December 2.—Young Shugrue, the Jersey City lightweight, outpointed Freddie Welsh, of England, the world's champion lightweight, in a ten-round bout at Madison Square Garden tonight.

Shugrue outfought and outboxed Welsh in eight of the ten rounds. The third round was even, while Welsh had the better of the seventh.

By agreement both boxers weighed-in at 4 o'clock this afternoon at 133½ pounds. They were allowed 135 at that time. Tonight at the ringside the English boxer weighed 134¾, while the American tipped the beam at 135.

It was the story of the fighter against the boxer, with the fighter having the better of it. Shugrue was the aggressor, tearing into Welsh's body with both hands. Welsh used jabbing tactics, and at times held on, while Shugrue, when both arms were free, sent in short-arm jolts to the face and body and at the end of the second had cut Welsh's right eye. The third was even, Welsh sending hard lefts and rights to the face.

Shugrue forced the fighting in the next three rounds. In the fourth he punished Welsh on the body, and sent the Englishman's head back with a hard straight left in the fifth. Welsh jabbed and side-stepped in the sixth, but Shugrue was on top continually.

Welsh's best work came in the seventh, when he landed a straight for his left to the face and followed with a hard right. Shugrue had the better of the last three rounds, landing hard drives on the head and body.

Both fought viciously in the tenth, Shugrue forcing Welsh to a corner, and Welsh doing likewise with his opponent. They were in a stiff mix-up at the bell.

In the event Judge Hill is not able to attend court, the remittitur will be signed by Judge Bell.

AT THE THEATERS

Primrose & Wilson' Minstrels.

(At the Atlanta.)

Many stars of the theatrical world have received their first education in the companies of Primrose and Wilson, the famous minstrel stars. To enumerate the list would be to name some of the most prominent comedians and vocalists of the present day. Messrs. Primrose and Wilson possess the happy faculty of discovering talent, and then the ability to develop it. The splendid organization gathered together by these stars for their big spectacular production of the twentieth century minstrelsy includes many artists of the first magnitude. There are a number of "finds" with this attraction this season who will, no doubt, have their names displayed in bright lights in the near future. The show says goodbye to Atlanta after a matinee and night performance today.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

There are lots of good sure-fire laugh winning acts on the bill at the happy Forsyth this week than usual. Joe Jackson, the world famous pantomimist, is, indeed, one of the busy, funny beings of stageland. The Comedian is the best cure for the worst case of blues that has ever faced an Atlanta gathering. "A Seminary Scandal" introduces a group of pretty girls who sing and dance and cut-up generally to the delight of every gathering. Jim Diamond and Sibyl Brennan offer a splendid specialty, and Collins and Hart win in a humorous burlesque on the strong man. Louis Collins, Jr., has won because of a pleasing personality, the choice of a splendid wardrobe and a delightful singing specialty. The headliner next week will be "Neptune's Garden," the most wonderful, sensational novelty in all vaudeville.

Emma Bunting.

(At the Lyric.)

The advance sale for the engagement of Little Emma Bunting at the Lyric starting on Monday night and continuing for just two weeks, eclipses any record of the popular family theater. Miss Bunting will open her engagement with a presentation of "What Happened to Mary," a dramatization of the famous screen play, and her second week will be devoted to the production of "Tess, of the Storm Country," a bit that has been registered here when Miss Bunting gave the bill its first presentation.

"High Jinks."

(At the Atlanta.)

"High Jinks," from whichever musical comedy that Arthur Hammerstein will present at the Atlanta theater Monday and Tuesday takes its name, is the label of a marvelous perfume, through a sniff of which the most bashful man is made as courageous as a lion, the most careful ceases to think of his reputation, and the most thoughtful becomes gaily frivolous. Whenever the bottle holding the magic drug is uncorked, everybody on the stage becomes wildly hilarious, and this hilarity reaches a climax at the close of the second act, when all the principals and chorus break out in the mad "Wiggle Waggle Tangle." The play proper is taken from an intricate French farce. Mr. Hammerstein prides himself that it is kept clean throughout the whole of its course, without losing a particle of its sparkle. The book and lyrics were written by Otto Hauerbach, and the music was composed by Rudief Friml. Seats go on sale this morning at 9 o'clock.

U. S. WILL NOT PENALIZE LATE WAR TAX RETURNS

The internal revenue department at Washington has ordered that the late applications of persons, who can show that they were hindered by the rush in getting in their war tax returns on time, will be stamped November 30. This departmental action has been taken following the fears of many persons, including some revenue officials themselves, that they would incur trouble by belated returns.

The following telegram has been received by Internal Revenue Collector Blalock, in common with other collectors:

"Date all special tax returns November 30, until you can handle applications promptly, unless you have information that no effort has been made to file the same prior to that date. If unable to supply demands for documentary stamps for bills of lading permit shipments to go forward, have record kept and affix or cancel stamps when received. Notify railroads."

As an aid to the railroads the government has authorized collectors to permit shipments to go forward, keeping a record of them, and then later, when stamps are on hand, affix them to the bills of lading. The heavy demand for the stamps is shown by the fact that practically every article in a drugstore must be stamped. Certificates issued by officers of a state in the interest of that state are not subject to the war tax.

Another Step Made by Stocks Toward Regular Resumption

Stock Exchange Issues Bid and Asked Prices of Actual Stock Sales--Gave Encouragement to the Financial District—Some of the Important Transactions.

New York, December 2.—Business in bonds on the stock exchange today evinced a further reactionary trend, with a wider variety of offerings. Declines in some less conspicuous issues varied from 1 to 5 points. Quite a few of several bonds, which were subject to reorganization and readjustment, losses were even more severe. This condition was offset, in part, by a decidedly better inquiry for the short term issues and the more active listed stocks, which in normal times constitute the great bulk of the daily operations. The demand for these securities, particularly notes, came from various quarters, the middle west being prominent in the buying. The movement was primarily attributed to the easier money conditions, which have caused an extraordinary piling up of cash at all the leading reserve centers. Lower rates for 30 and 60 days loans, as reported today, were a natural corollary of this new situation.

The financial district derived considerable encouragement from the announcement that hereafter the stock exchange intended to issue daily actual stock sales, as made through its clearing house, together with a comparative table of bid and asked prices. This was generally recognized as another step toward full and regular resumption.

Concurrently, London cables stated that the stock exchange there is likely to reopen this month, if the treasury officials sanction such action. A significant development, because of its bearing on the foreign situation, was the placing here of a $5,000,000 two-year 4 per cent treasury note issue by the Swedish government, the proceeds of which, it was said, were to be disbursed in this country in the purchase of various commodities.

Increased confidence in the betterment of domestic industrial conditions was reflected in the extension in the demand for pig iron. Copper metal at 12 cents suggested some increased buying by home consumers.

October statements of a number of prominent transportation companies, including Reading, Illinois Central, Chesapeake and Ohio, and New Haven, showed variable losses in net earnings, most of which were tempered by greater reduced operating expenses.

The list of stocks issued by the stock exchange today showed the minimum, bid, asked and last sales. Following are some of the important issues:

COTTON MOVEMENT FOR FOUR MONTHS

Secretary Hester's Figures to Close of November, and Comparisons With Previous Years at Same Time.

New Orleans, December 2.—The total movement of the cotton crop brought into sight for the first four months ending close of November was 5,187,467 bales, compared with 5,064,440 for last year, 7,811,491 year before last and 7,644,081 for 1911, according to a report made today by Secretary Hester, of the New Orleans cotton exchange.

The total movement since August 1 amounts to receipts at all United States ports 2-892,410, against 5,767,975 last year, 7,-734,482 year before last and 8,070,105 same time in 1911; overland across the Mississippi, Ohio and Potomac rivers to northern mills and Canada 255,847, against 296,465 last year, 385,560 year before last and 309,853 same time in 1911; southern mill takings exclusive of overland 1,000,000, against 1,000,000, 1,016,000, against 1,213,030 last year, 1,-049,432 year before last and 825,596 same time in 1911; and interior stocks in excess of those held at the close of the commercial year 996,790, against 1,-041,981 last year, 1,241,241 year before last and 730,578 same time in 1911.

In the New Orleans Market.

New Orleans, December 2.—Fear of a large crop estimate from the government next week held buying of futures down in the cotton market today, while on the other hand fear that the government would underestimate the crop prevented much short cotton from coming out. In the early trading, the most active months went five to six points lower yesterday's close and in the afternoon they went a couple of points under. The close was two points up to one point low compared with yesterday's final prices.

A feature of the statistics that commanded attention was the fact that port receipts for this week are only 240,793 bales, against 261,291 up to the same time last week. The bulls declared that this proved the strength of the holding movement among farmers, pointed to a falling off in the movement into sight and indicated that the crop already had reached the height of its movement. Bears contended that it was the result of a falling off in the spot demand, consequent upon the complete filling of November engagements.

Spot cotton quiet; sales on the spot, 760 bales; to arrive, 1,150; good ordinary, 5.75-16; strict good ordinary, 6 5-16; low middling, 6 13-16; strict low middling, 7 1-16; middling, 7 5-16; strict middling, 7 9-16; good middling, 7 13-16; strict good middling, 8 5-16; receipts, 8,410; stock, 231,163.

Less Active in New York.

New York, December 2.—No fresh feature presented itself in the cotton market here today and trading was less active than on any previous day since the reopening. Fluctuations were narrow and irregular, with the close steady, net 1 point higher on December, but generally unchanged to 2 points lower.

The opening was steady at unchanged prices to a 2-point advance in response to steady Liverpool cables. Yesterday's late decline in some of the leading southern spot markets was not followed by increased hedge selling here and there was nothing to indicate any general weakness in the interior, but there were very few buyers around the ring, and prices eased off, under scattering liquidation or local pressure which may possibly have been encouraged by large present crop estimates and by talk of a slackening spot demand.

December ruled relatively steady, selling about 4 points higher once during the afternoon, on some scattered covering and reports that much of the cotton arriving here from Galveston on consignment consisted of Hutchens, which could not be tendered on the near-month contract.

A prominent local authority issued a report before the opening indicating a crop of 16,760,000 bales, excluding linters, and later a Chicago estimate was published of 16,621,000 bales, excluding linters. These figures seemed to strengthen bearish views of the crop in local circles, but created no fresh pressure to sell. Inactivity of trading was attributed to a general disposition to wait for a further test of the southern spot situation.

Spot cotton, quiet; middling uplands, 7.65; gmlf, 7.90. No sales.

HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

New York, December 2.—(Special.)—The market today moved within a very narrow range of prices, but held steady under a small volume of business. Southern spot markets are reported as somewhat easier, but nothwithstanding cotton is not pushed for sale here this is rather remarkable, when considered in connection with present trade conditions and the amount of cotton held in the south. The ginning up to December 1 will probably nominate 13,646,000 bales, out of which there have been exported 3,366,000 bales and calculating domestic consumption at about the same figures, would leave a balance on hands counting the amount in this country carried over from the old crop of about 10,000,000 bales. The steadiness of the markets, in face of these statistics, is a tribute to the strength of the southern holders, while at the same time plainly indicating what would be the course of prices were consumption permitted to follow its normal course.

WHEAT STRONGER ON FOREIGN DEMAND

Reports Circulated That Argentine Offerings to Europe Were Scarce Also Helped Bulls—Corn Up.

Chicago, December 2.—Bulls had the advantage in the wheat market today, owing to strong foreign demand and reports that Austrin would need to import and that Argentine offerings to Europe were scarce. The market closed steady at the same as last night to ¾ advance. Corn finished ¾ up, oats unchanged to ¾ off and provisions varying from 5 cents decline to a rise of 12½.

The official announcement that Australia's wheat yield would be 10,000,000 bushels short of home demand gave buyers encouragement. Estimates reported France would require 85,000,000 bushels and Holland 25,000,000 bushels. Receipts at domestic primary points showed a notable falling off. Insufficiency of vessels for immediate sailing tended to a reaction late in the day. December delivery being most affected. Late quotations showed the influence, too, of predictions that rather liberal receipts would continue from the northwest.

Shutting off producers' sales and some export increase and domestic demand lifted corn prices. Adverse weather and reports that stock at all points east were light also figured.

Oats first hardened with other cereals, but dimness was only fair.

Shorts were active buyers in the provision pit on a belief that the severe break in hog values today would cause a decided increase in receipts.

MUCH INTEREST IN The Constitution's Cooking School

Housewives Awaiting Anxiously For First Session of Classes

EVERYTHING FREE!

Many Dishes to Be Prepared

The announcement in The Constitution of the free cooking school and lectures and demonstrations on kitchen economy which are to be conducted five days next week, beginning Monday, has no doubt been eagerly read by the many housewives of Atlanta who are always glad for an opportunity to study economical housekeeping. Lessons will be held in Taft Hall, the best ventilated auditorium in Atlanta.

Mrs. Florence Austin Chase, of Chicago, an experienced and practical household economist and lecturer and cooking demonstrator, will have personal charge of the school, which is to be conducted under the auspices of The Constitution, and reports from other cities where she has lectured especially note the entire practicability of her demonstrations. Her cooking programs are made up of every-day, common-sense menus and recipes which any housewife will find interesting and valuable, and her lectures deal with the many perplexing problems which daily confront the busy woman in her home work; her efforts being to assist in solving these problems and make the daily duties in the home more of a pleasant pursuit to be looked forward to with pleasure rather than a dreary drudgery to be dreaded.

Five Demonstrations

Mrs. Chase will conduct five demonstrations during the time of her stay in Atlanta, and in the course of her work will prepare an entire course dinner, from soup to dessert, and show many short cuts in the preparation of the meal with new and interesting recipes and valuable suggestions, which will go to add to the attractiveness of the meal. Soups and salads, entrees, meats cooked in many forms, and a great many attractive and easily prepared desserts will be included in the varied programs from day to day, and one session will be particularly devoted to bread baking. Mrs. Chase will show bread rolls in a great variety. Parker House rolls, clover leaf biscuits, finger rolls, and bread in many styles and shapes.

Not only will this clever woman lecture on the many topics in her programs, she will actually prepare the dishes before her classes, and serve the results of her efforts to the women in attendance.

Bring Dish and Spoon

Each visitor to the cooking school is requested to bring with her a small dish and spoon that she may take advantage of the invitation which will be extended to taste the many delicious dishes which will be prepared daily, and served to them by the maids in attendance.

In addition to the Cooking Demonstrations, a number of local merchants will make attractive displays of goods, which will make Taft Hall next week an interesting place to spend a few hours each afternoon.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

The most important real estate announcement of many months was that made yesterday by Dr. E. L. Connally to the effect that he had been engaged for the construction of his proposed sky-scraper at the southeast corner of Whitehall and Alabama streets. The contract has not yet been awarded, but Dr. Connally stated that as soon as the contract is awarded the construction of the building will proceed as originally planned.

Full details will be found elsewhere in this issue of The Constitution.

BULL MOOSE LEADERS WILL CONTINUE FIGHT

They Announce That There Will Be No Dissolution of the Party.

Chicago, December 2.—Ninety-one progressives from thirty-four states, at a conference of the executive committee of the party here today, expressed their confidence in progressive party principles and their determination to continue the party in action.

A statement issued by the executive committee through its chairman, George W. Perkins, of New York, declared the progressive organization and campaign of education should continue and that the national committee should be asked to fix the time and place for holding the 1916 national convention and to transact business incidental to the presidential campaign two years from now.

Three sessions were held. A statement by Miss Jane Addams, member of the executive committee, that she was now "more enthusiastic than ever in the cause of the progressive party," apparently expressed the sentiments of the conference members and was applauded vigorously.

Not a speaker made any suggestion of abandoning the party and the subject of amalgamation with either of the older parties was not brought up.

"The product of a rumor factory," was Chairman Perkins' characterization of reports of possible disintegration or amalgamation. "Progressive principles are permanent, and it now is more than ever evident that the progressive party today is the necessary organ for their realization."

MACON WOULD COMPEL THE CENTRAL TO BUILD

Macon, Ga., December 2.—(Special.)—The Macon city council is going to appeal to the railroad commission to compel the Central of Georgia railway to go ahead with the construction of a new passenger station in Macon, the city having declined to grant the request of the Central that the clause in the contract between the city and the Central requiring that land granted to the railroad shall belong to the railroad so long as it is used for railroad purposes be stricken. The Central has already notified council that it will not sign the contract unless given absolute title to the land, which includes several acres right in the heart of the warehouse district of the city, and now the city is just as determined that the railroad shall not have the land for anything else but railroad purposes.

A copy of the contract has been sent to the Central with a request that council be notified by next Tuesday night whether it will sign the contract. If the Central refuses, then the contract will be sent to the railroad commission with a request that the depot be ordered built without further delay on land to be provided by the Central.

TAYLOR GETS 2 YEARS FOR DEPOT SHOOTING

Macon, Ga., December 2.—(Special.) W. H. Taylor, who, two years ago, shot G. E. Moffett, gatekeeper at the Union depot, and who was later indicted for assault with intent to murder, was today found guilty by a jury in the superior court of shooting at another. He was recommended to the mercy of court and several of the jurors signed a petition asking the court to permit him to pay a fine. Judge Mathews, however, decided that Taylor should serve two years in the state farm.

This was Taylor's second trial, he having been convicted of assault with intent to murder about a year ago, and was sentenced to serve four years. The supreme court reversed the case, the lower court on the ground that Judge Mathews had erred in his charge to the jury.

Attorney John R. Cooper, who represented Taylor, may again decide to appeal the case.

JONESBORO RE-ELECTS MAYOR AND COUNCIL

Jonesboro, Ga., December 2.—(Special.)—The result of the election held here today for mayor and three members of the city council was a strong indorsement of the administration, as the present mayor, W. S. Archer, and the three members of council, Hugh Camp, J. C. Hanes and E. W. Hutcheson, who offered for re-election, had no opposition, received over 70 per cent of the registered vote, and not a name was scratched. The mayor and council of the city of Jonesboro will be the same for 1915 as for 1914: Mayor W. S. Archer; Councilmen A. A. Camp, J. C. Hanes, E. W. Hutcheson, Z. T. Manson, G. D. Medlock and W. P. Reeves.

CONVICT OFFERS SELF AS SACRIFICE TO CANCER GERMS

New York, December 2.—In a letter to Thomas Mott Osborne, the new warden of Sing Sing prison, a life prisoner in the prison at Auburn, N. Y., offers himself as a sacrifice for inoculation with cancer germs to ascertain whether the disease is contagious. The new warden of Sing Sing prison, whose home is in Auburn and who was closely associated with reforms in Auburn prison, stated that he knew the prisoner well and vouched fully for his sincerity.

"He is a man of better than the average education, of refinement and had a family of great esteem," Warden Osborne explained last night. "He offered himself for the same purpose a year ago, but Attorney General Carmody ruled that the state of New York could not allow it.

Warden Osborne officially took up his new duties yesterday. He met a few prisoners whom he described as "friends I met while serving my experimental term in Auburn." The warden also met fifty members of the Golden Rule Brotherhood, a prison organization, which is expected to put all prisoners on their honor through their co-operation.

The new warden stated that he planned to extend the personal liberty of the convicts and to give them more recreation in the hope of strengthening them physically and thereby improving their mentality.

FIREWORKS BANNED TO PROTECT COTTON

Eastman, Ga., December 2.—(Special.)—The city council of Eastman has passed an ordinance prohibiting the sale or firing of fireworks within the city limits of Eastman. This step was made necessary owing to the great amount of cotton stored in the warehouses and on the streets. There are about 12,000 or 15,000 bales of cotton stored in the seven warehouses and on the streets.

DEER ARE PLENTIFUL IN GRADY AND THOMAS

Thomasville, Ga., December 2.—(Special.)—Deer seem to be more plentiful in this section of Georgia, than has been known in many years and people who had almost forgotten the taste of venison are having an opportunity to enjoy it.

Several Thomasville hunters who went out a day or two ago about ten miles from town in the Beachton neighborhood, brought back three large bucks. One of them, which was an especial beauty, had four points on his horns and was one of the largest seen here in a long time. For awhile deer were scare in this section, but there are certain portions of this county and Grady where they have multiplied very rapidly in the last few years, and deer hunting is indulged in often.

Saved by "Unwritten Law."

Montgomery, Ala., December 2.—The plea of "the unwritten law" secured an acquittal for Frank Wilkes, a carpenter, charged in the city criminal court today with assault with attempt to murder N. T. Hooth, a railroad man. Wilkes claimed that Booth tried to ruin his home and compelled a revolver term of settlement. The jury was out ten minutes.

Appetite Follows Good Digestion

Nearly everyone indulges their appetite and the digestive organs are abused, resulting in a congestion of poisonous waste that clogs the bowels and causes much misery and distress.

The most effective remedy to correct this condition is the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a natural, pleasant-tasting remedy, gentle yet positive in action, and quickly relieves indigestion, constipation, sick headache, belching, etc. Drug stores sell Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, and in thousands of homes it is the indispensable family remedy. For a free trial bottle write Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 451 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.
